Water Co. Franchise To Be Studied

Rough Draft Of Measure Completed By Council Committee

Efforts of city councilmen to reach agreement with the Marion Water Co. of terms of a new franchise may soon bring results.

A rough draft of the franchise has been prepared by council's utilities committee, headed by Fourth Ward Councilman Louis B. Conkle.

The draft will be presented to the entire council at a special meeting at the mayor's office Thursday, Oct 18

Mr Conkle did not disclose contents of the rough draft. He said announcement of the terms would be put off until all members of council have been given a chance to study the draft

The special meeting was scheduled at last night's regular meeting of council.

Official action on granting the franchise is not expected for several weeks Mr. Conkle said the meeting had not been scheduled for approval of the franchise but simply to acquaint council members with the points included in the draft

Old Franchise Expired

The former franchise expired last April.

Negotiations for a new franchise ordinance have been going on since last fall Some councilmen wanted to talk rates before franchise. The company, however, refused to discuss rates until franchise ordinance was granted.

Council members wanted a rate discussion because the company had been granted a 35 percent increase the previous year. At that time council had been asked by the water company to grant a 25 percent increase but council had refused. Then the company carried its request to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. It added 10 percent to its original request as costs of preparing its case. The PUCO granted the entire 35 percent increase.

Still Want To Talk Rates

Council members still would like to discuss the rate problem but Mr. Conkle said the meeting next week was simply to present the proposed franchise to council members. Should the proposed draft be acceptable to council, a franchise would then be drawn up for formal approval. A rate ordinance would be considered at the same time, he said.

Henry A. Mickley, attorney for the water company, has been representing the company at the various committee meetings. He said no discussion of rates had been held and the special meeting would be the first formal discussion of the franchise problem. The meeting has been set to find out whether or not council will approve a franchise after all disputed points have been settled.

Franchise and rates come under different ordinances. The franchise ordinance would be a charter to do business. Rates would have to be settled in a separate ordinance.

Other Council Action

At the meeting last night Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance, chairman of the municipal service committee, reported on the proposed fire protection contract with the B. F. Goodrich plant near Green Camp.

The ordinance was tabled until the next regular meeting for further action.

Councilman Quaintance told council the Goodrich Co. had agreed to pay the city an annual $200 retainer fee for fire protection The committee recommended the city fire equipment be insured to cover any damage or liability suit resulting from a fire run to the plant. At the present time only one piece of equipment used for protection in Pleasant and Marion Township is insured.

The two townships now enjoying city fire protection pay a flat $75 fee for each run plus an hourly rate during the fire. Individual plants located in these townships pay nothing, Councilman Tom Clark said.

Favors New Ordinance

He went on record as favoring a new ordinance in which all plants would be charged the same amount. He suggested the revenue

Royal Couple Officially On Tour Today

Elizabeth, Philip In Quebec for First Public Appearances

QUEBEC, Oct. 9—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh officially began their month-long Canadian tour today with a 13-hour schedule of public appearances

The British Royal couple arrived here at 9:45 a.m. and will continue throughout the day to greet throngs who may some day become Elizabeth's subjects. They don't have a moment's rest until they leave by train for Ottawa at 10:30 tonight.

After detraining at Wolfe's Cove where they were to be greeted by Quebec's Lieut. Gov. Gaspard Fauteux and Prime Minister Maurice D. Duplessis, Elizabeth and Philip faced this program:

1. A call at the Quebec parliament to sign the golden book and meet parliament members and their wives.

2. A tour of the city, with stops at Laval University and City Hall.

3. Inspection of the old British fortress and the Regiment De La Chaudiere on the historic plains of Abraham. The princess is colonel-in-chief of the regiment.

4. A luncheon given by the lieutenant governor

5. Inspection of Canada's 27th Brigade soon to leave for Europe

6 A demonstration by 20,000 school children at the municipal coliseum, a state banquet and an appearance at a concert by the Quebec symphony orchestra.

It was a sample of what the royal couple will face almost every day for the next month.

Elizabeth and Philip spent last night—their first on Canadian soil—aboard the special train bringing them from Montreal to Quebec. They arrived just before noon yesterday at Montreal's Dorval airport after a 3,400-mile flight from England.

New Stassen Charges Cloud Jessup Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen's sworn assertion that ambassador Philip C. Jessup gave "false" testimony under oath posed a new problem today for senators considering Jessup's nomination as a United Nations delegate.

A Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee arranged a closed meeting to discuss that situation as well as earlier testimony by Jessup that Stassen previously had made erroneous sworn statements regarding him.

In advance of today's session Senator H Alexander Smith (R-N J), a member of the subcommittee, told a reporter he might propose that Jessup be recalled to the witness stand in an effort to reconcile the conflict.

EDITOR COLLAPSES

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Oct. 9—(AP)—Tom Wallace, president of the InterAmerican Press Association, was taken suddenly ill today just after a tumultous convention session here at which members of the Argentine delegation walked out. Wallace, editor emeritus of the Louisville, Ky., Times, slumped in his chair unconscious. He was taken to a hospital. A physician said his illness appeared due to extreme fatigue.

Harding Association Re-elects Officers

Reports of officers and chairmen, the annual election of officers and a resume of the finances made up the 29th annual meeting of the Harding Memorial Association Monday at Hotel Harding

Reports showed that interest in both the Harding Home on Mt. Vernon avenue and the Harding Memorial is increasing with the years.

While meetings of the association are held annually the work of the members is a year-round job, administering funds and supervising the maintenance and upkeep of the Home and Memorial.

A report of the treasurer showed that despite the higher cost in materials and a decrease in revenue from the association's assets, the finances of the organization are most satisfactory. Figures showed that expenses have been kept to a minimum while maintenance has been kept up to standard. Expenditures this year included the papering of several rooms at the Home and minor repairs at the Home and Memorial.

5,837 Visit Home

In his report, Harold D Augenstein, who is in charge of the Home and Memorial grounds, reported 5,837 paid admissions at the Home this year and stated that more than 25,000 persons had visited the memorial. Souvenirs are on sale at both places and a profit is realized on these during the tourist season, Mr. Augenstein reported. On behalf of the association, Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, president, expressed appreciation of the interest and work of Mr. and Mrs. Augenstein and family.

Three members of the association have died during the past year. They are George B. Christian Jr., General Charles G. Dawes, former vice president of the United States, charter members of the organization, and W. B. Woodbury of Diamond Point, N. Y.

Reviews Association History

In an informal talk Dr. Carl W. Sawyer gave a thumbnail sketch of the association, its purpose and some of the activities in its early years, as a background for some of the newer members.

Following the adjournment of the association a meeting of the board of trustees was held for the annual election of officers and the naming of successors to the deceased members of the organization.

Tht following officers were re-elected: Herbert Hoover, honorary president; Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, president; Ray R. King, first vice president; Paul D Michel, second vice president, secretary and assistant treasurer, Dr. Warren Sawyer, third vice president and Paul Bachman, treasurer. Elected as members of the association were Kenneth Robinson, E. G. Siefert and Russell Snare. Named on the board of trustees were J. Edwin Probst and Robert C. Owens.

Marysville Youth Wins National F.F.A. Contest

Jon Greeneisen, 18, of Marysville, won the $250 first prize in the national public speaking contest at the opening of the Future Farmers of America convention last night in Kansas City, The Associated Press reported today.

The contestants had won state and regional contests to qualify for the national competition. They had received $100 prizes as state winners.

Young Greeneisen graduated from Marysville High School last spring and is a student in agriculture at Ohio State University now. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Greeneisen, operate a 135-acre farm five miles northwest of Marysville.

Title of the speech was "I Caused an Accident." The talk covered farm safety.

In F.F.A. Band, Chorus

Donald Loudenslager of near Marion and Frank Howald of Norton are among 350 Ohio boys who are attending the national F.F.A. convention.

Donald is one of five boys from Ohio who are members of the national F.F.A. band, while Frank is one of five boys representing Ohio in the national F.F.A. chorus.

Donald, 17, lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Loudenslager, on a farm three miles south of Morral. He is a senior at Morral High School and belongs to the Morral F.F.A. Chapter. He plays the trombone and was a member of the state F.F.A. band this year and last year.

Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howald of Norton. He is 17 years old and sings first tenor with the national chorus. A senior at Radnor Union School, he has been a member of the Radnor F.F.A. Chapter for three years.

Area Youths to Be Honored

Robert D. Kin of near Upper Sandusky and William A. Bloom of near Kenton are among 10 future farmers from Ohio who will receive the American Farmer degree at the convention.

The Ohio delegation will have judging teams in national contests for dairy cattle, dairy products, meats, poultry, and livestock.

Reds Ready New Note To Ridgway

To Be Delivered Tomorrow; Believed Reply on Truce Site

TOKYO, Oct. 9—(AP)—The Reds will deliver a new message to the Allies tomorrow, presumably their latest word on reopening Korean truce talks.

Tonight they asked Allied liaison officers to pick up the message at Panmunjom, proposed new locale for the talks, at 8 a. m. Wednesday (6 p. m., E.S.T., Tuesday).

That is only two hours before the time suggested by Gen Matthew B Ridgway for a meeting of liaison officers in the Panmunjom area to lay detailed plans for renewing cease-fire negotiations.

The Reds gave no indication of what the message would contain. They sent word of the message to Munsan, advance headquarters of the U.N. command armistice delegation, where reports circulated that there may be changes in the five-man Allied truce team.

There had been no indication that top Red commanders had drafted their reply to Ridgway's message broadcast Monday night. In it he agreed to renew truce talks in the vicinity of Panmunjom, but declined to enlarge the neutral zone as the Communists wanted.

Ridgway also suggested the preparatory Wednesday session of liaison officers.

Meet Briefly Tuesday

They met briefly in fog-blanketed Panmunjom Tuesday morning when Allied officers delivered Ridgway's message accepting the vicinity of that Red check point as a site for resuming negotiations which the Communists broke off Aug. 23 at Kaesong.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the U.N. delegation, was reported preparing to leave Tokyo shortly for his advance headquarters in Korea to be ready to reopen negotiations.

Associated Press correspondent Robert Tuckman, reporting the possible change in the Allied negotiating team, noted that two members of the delegation recently received new assignments.

Maj Gen. Henry I. Hodes was named deputy commander of the U. S. 8th Army. He formerly was its deputy chief of staff.

Rear Adm. Arleigh A. Burke was expected to leave soon to report to the chief of naval operations in Washington for an undisclosed assignment. Until recently Burke was commander of Cruiser Division 5 in Korean waters.

May Change Two

The Munsan report was that one or two members of the negotiating group would be changed. Other two members of the five-

Detroit Under Scrutiny

Internal Tax Scandal Spreads to New Quarters

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—(AP)—Investigation of alleged irregularities in the nation's tax collection service promised today to spread to new quarters.

As a House ways and means committee resumed public hearings on the sideline activities of James P. Finnegan, resigned St. Louis Collector of internal revenue, Committee Counsel Adrian W. Dewind told newsmen:

"There are other collectors' offices under investigation now. The results of those investigations are not complete yet, but it is entirely possible they will be brought into public hearing."

He said the Detroit internal revenue office is "definitely" one of the offices under investigation.

Dewind's statement came as the committee scheduled testimony from Francis P. Smith, internal revenue collector in Philadelphia; and recalled Hugh Finnegan, brother of James, for further questioning concerning his associations, with indicted Boston Collector Denis W. Delaney.

Also, Dewind spoke following a Senate speech yesterday by Senator Williams (R-Del) saying the government has failed to press income tax claims of $675,344 against a Kansas City businessman Williams' statements on the Kansas City tax case were denied by the businessman's attorney.

Williams named the businessman as Ardeis H. Myers, and said $171,726 of the government's claim had been left idle so long it was no longer recoverable, due to the statute of limitations.

"Particularly suspicious," Williams said, was the identity of the lawyer who opposed the claims against Myers. Williams named the lawyer as Dan M. Nee, and said he was the former internal revenue collector under whom the claims against Myers were filed.

In a statement at Kansas City last night to newsmen, Nee said Myers' tax affairs had never been in his hands, and that he knew nothing of them until two years after he resigned, when, he said, he became Myers' tax attorney.

Nee said the collectors office, which he headed at Kansas City from 1933 to 1948, handles taxes involving only net income up to $7,000 for an individual and $25,000 gross for an individual's business. Nee said Myers' income had "always" exceeded the limit and his taxes were therefore handled by the revenue agent's office, a separate organization, with headquarters for Missouri in St. Louis.

Thus, he said, he never handled, or knew anything about

Crack Safe In Marion; $1,050 Gone

Police Call Burglary At Ralston Coal Co. "Professional Job"

A safe at the Ralston Coal and Supply Co. at 676 Bellefontaine avenue was opened sometime over the weekend and $1,050 in cash and bonds taken, police reported today.

The money stolen was $300 in small bills. The bonds had a face value of $750 and might be negotiable, police said.

The safe job was conducted in a "professional manner," police said.

The knob of the safe was knocked off and a pin pounded out releasing the combination which allowed the door to be opened.

The burglary occurred between 10 a.m. Sunday and 7 a.m. yesterday. Police received the report at 8 a.m. yesterday.

Report Withheld

The report of the safecracking was withheld yesterday by Police Captain Clyde Hardin, acting chief in the absence of Chief Tom Coon, who is attending a convention Hardin said he withheld the report because investigation was not completed.

Entry to the building was gained by entering through a rear window. The office is at the front of a private residence. The residence has been unoccupied for three weeks for the first time in 15 years, police reported.

The safecracking may have been done in daylight, police believe. They received no reports of lights being seen in the building at night. But just when entry to the building was made and the safe opened remains a mystery.

Went To Work

E J. Ralston said he had gone to the company office for a short while at about 10 a.m. Sunday to do work and the safe was all right then. He returned to the office at 7 a.m. Monday and found the safe opened.

After the knob was knocked from the safe the pin was knocked out. The noise of the pounding may have been muted by using a piece of hard rubber found inside the safe, police said.

The whole job would not have taken more than just a few minutes and could have been done while a train was passing on the tracks close by, police said. Nothing else in the house or office was disturbed, according to the report.

Crowd Greets Movie Star Jeanne Crain

A crowd estimated at nearly 300 persons jammed the intersection of Main and Center streets at noon today to greet Jeanne Crain, Hollywood film actress, during a brief visit to Marion.

Accompanying Miss Crain was Ernest Pascall, Hollywood writer. They were sent to Marion as part of the year-long "Movietime, U.S.A." celebration sponsored by the movie industry, which is observing its golden jubilee.

The two visitors came here from Delaware and were guests of honor at a noon luncheon held at Hotel Harding. They were met at the city limits by a police escort and taken directly to the courthouse.

During brief ceremonies there, Mayor Harold F. Robinson presented Miss Crain with a key to the city and a corsage.

Miss Crain was in Marion in 1944 when some of the scenes of her first picture, "Home in Indiana," were filmed here.

Symington Clears Gabrielson on Loan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—(AP)—Administrator Stuart Symington said today the RFC's loan negotiations with Republican national chairman Guy Gabrielson have been "a very normal thing."

Symington made that comment when asked at a news conference whether the RFC gave the matter any more attention than usual because Gabrielson personally negotiated an $18,500,000 loan for the Carthage-Hydrocal Corp., which Gabrielson heads.

Drive Reds Back More Than a Mile

Enemy Still Holds Eastern Peaks; Navy Says 2 Ships Hit

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Oct. 9—(AP)—American First Division cavalrymen slashed out gains of more than a mile on the western front today.

The Reds fought fiercely to stem the advance.

In the mountainous east, Communist troops held attacking American and French forces to gains of a few hundred yards—or none at all—on the Heartbreak Ridge and neighboring peaks.

Elsewhere along the front no significant action was reported in an early afternoon communique issued by the U. S. Eighth Army.

The Navy announced in Tokyo the U. S. Destroyer Ernest G. Small hit a Communist mine Sunday night off the east coast of Korea.

The explosion killed eight American sailors and injured 19, the Navy said In Washington the Navy had reported nine dead, 18 injured.

The destroyer ran into the mine while dueling Communist shore batteries at Hungnam, 130 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Another Ship Hit

Another American vessel, the minesweeper Firecrest, was hit by Red shore guns at Hungnam Friday, the Navy said, but no one was injured.

The Small and the Firecrest were with the battleship New Jersey and other U. S. warships which opened an attack on Hungnam Thursday—the first bombardment of that port since American doughboys and Marines pulled out of the area last December.

The Navy said the Firecrest was repaired on the spot. The destroyer headed for Japan to have "moderate damage" to her forward section repaired. She had a small hole below the waterline.

Allied troops in the west fought off a series of Chinese probing attacks made under cover of darkness. They began Monday night and continued up to dawn.

The U. S. First Cavalry Division attacked after daylight Tuesday north-northwest of Yonchon. The foot troops drve 2,000 yards forward in the morning. The communique said they were heavily engaged by entrenched Chinese at noon.

North of Panmunjom

This battle, scene of a heavy artillery duel Monday, was about 20 miles northeast of Panmunjom, proposed locale for renewing admistice talks.

The communique reported two Allied attacks Tuesday in the vicinity of Heartbreak Ridge, 20 miles north of the 38th Parallel. A Red battalion atop a ridge stopped one assault in its tracks in the morning The other hacked out gains of 200 to 400 yards against North Koreans.

McCarthy To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—(AP)—A Senate rules committee voted unanimously today to investigate charges made by Senator Benton (D-Conn) that Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) be ousted from Congress.

Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) told reporters a subcommittee staff will investigate and has been instructed to report by Nov. 1.

Benton has called for a full scale Senate inquiry to determine whether there are grounds to expel McCarthy from the Senate.

Benton told the group Sept. 28 he believes McCarthy should be ousted. He accused the Wisconsin lawmaker of committing perjury and fraud and said he had engaged in "calculated deceit" of the American people since his election to the Senate in 1946.

"Gillette said after today's meeting that Benton had asked the subcommittee to broaden the scope of the proposed inquiry to cover McCarthy's activities prior to his election to the Senate. The group took no immediate action on the request, the chairman added.

Auto-Truck Crash Near Lima Kills 2

LIMA, O., Oct. 9—(AP)—Two women were killed instantly today in a truck-auto collision on Route 65 three miles north of Lima.

Sheriff's deputies tentatively identified them as Mrs. Rose Comita, about 60, and her daughter, Miss Rose Comita, 18, of Vermilion.

The driver of the truck, Milton G. Mines, 23, Lima, received slight injuries.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will average near normal in east portion and two to four degrees above normal in the west portion. Normal maximum is 65 in north, 69 in south. Normal minimum is 46. Warmer Wednesday and Thursday. Cooler Friday and warmer again Sunday. Showers about Friday totaling one-quarter inch or less.

Lecture-Recital Club Program Presented

Dancer, Clarinetist, Singers in Concert At Hotel Harding

A program by Marion musicians at Hotel Harding last night was well received by the audience of nearly 160 Lecture-Recital Club members and guests who attended their first patroness concert presented by the club It was one of two annual programs arranged by the club for the enjoyment of the interested public Another will be given in November

Featured were Miss Melinda Plank, young dancer, Miss Marilyn Hogen, clarinetist, and Mrs George Griffiths and George W Lane in an "opera buffa" in one act, "The Telephone," by Menotti The program centered on the modern mode in music climaxed by the singing of Mrs Griffiths and Mr Lane in the very modern musical dialog "The Telephone" has been in production less than five years and was first presented to a New York City audience

Dancer Opens Program

To open the program, the child ballet interpreter presented Tschaikowsky's 'Dance of the Flutes" from his "The Nutcracker Suite" accompanied by her mother, Mrs. John Plank

Following was the clarinet group by Miss Marilyn Hogen who is an instructor of instrumental music in the Mar on public schools She was accompanied by Mrs John F. Lacey Her numbers included "Solo de Concours," Rabaud, "Sonata for Clarinet and Piano (Second Movement)," Sowerby and 'Scherzo Brillante," Jean-jean

As "Lucy," a soprano, and "Ben," a baritone Mrs Griffiths and Mr Lane presented the entertaining song-story of "The Telephone" to bring to a climax the audience's enthusiastic response to the entire program, shown in the applause at the finale Both their snatches of conversation in solo back and forth, with the soprano's sustained musical chats over the telephone, and the duets culminating the plot won an expression of much appreciation

Telephone Is Villain

"Villain" of the story was the "monster" telephone which proved a near disaster to a young romance as its insistant ringing, always at the wrong time, interrupted the suitor each time as he was about to make his proposal of marriage The frustrated young man finally won the lady by going away and calling to proposed by telephone Accompanist was Mrs Howard Hinamon, and Miss Barbara Axe was the director.

Mrs Lloyd Lutz, Lecture-Recital Club president, closed the program with appreciation expressed to those attending and to those in and assisting with the program.

The average height of a girl 15 to 19 years old is four feet 11 inches and her weight averages 110 pounds.

Brush-Moore Newsmen Meet

Teletypesetter Plan Reviewed by Group

By Brush-Moore News Service

CANTON, O., Oct. 9 — Editors and business managers of the Brush-Moore Newspapers in Ohio and Maryland met here Sunday and Monday to discuss new advances and problems in production of their newspapers.

The discussions centered principally around the forthcoming adoption of teletypesetter equipment, distributing newspapers more efficiently to subscribers, finding a sufficient supply of newsprint and the increasing costs of production.

All of the Brush-Moore newspapers expect to install teletypesetters in their printing departments within the next few months. This latest development in typesetting will enable the papers to distribute printing tasks more efficiently.

Here for the meeting were the following editors and business managers: Harry S. Elliott and James C. Woods of The Marion Star, W. J. Michl and Joseph D. Long of The Steubenville Herald-Star, Wayne Paulson and C. V. Hughes of the East Liverpool Review, C. G. Horn and V. H. Merson of The Canton Repository, Ray Dean and George Rogers of The Salem News, John G. Green and C. G. Linham of The Portsmouth Times and Oscar Morris and Ed Hearn of The Salisbury (Md.) Times.

Roy D. Moore, president and publisher of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., was host at the meeting.

Two Printers Given Diplomas

At a meeting of Marion Typographical Union No. 675 Monday night in the Y.M.C.A., Roger Campbell and William Hoffman were presented diplomas for having satisfactorily completed apprentice lessons in printing, supplied by the International Typographical Union.

Revised by-laws to the constitution were voted on by the members and accepted. They were presented by the by-laws committee composed of Homer Lyons, chairman, Marvin Thomas, Mrs. Dana Wiggins, David B. Metzger, president, and Fred P. Haas, secretary and treasurer.

Miss Leola Crispin, Harry Pearlman and William Bomberger were appointed on a committee to conduct the voting on a referendum on changing the international law to be held Oct. 24.

MARTEL W.S.C.S. MEETS

When the Martel W.S.C.S. met Thursday all day, Mrs. Priscilla Black entertained at her home, and Mrs. Dora Coulter was assistant hostess. Mrs. Lola Huntsman was in charge, and plans were made to get a larger group of women present at the meetings. A called meeting was announced for Oct. 10, all day, at the home of Mrs. Huntsman. A missionary reading on India was by Mrs. Pearl Rice, and devotions were by Miss Ruby McBride. The next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Leola Hissong, with Mrs. Carrie Thompson as assistant hostess, and Mrs. LaVern Sharrock in charge of devotions.

Will Head Drive Divisions

Chest Leaders Appointed

RAY REIDENBAUGH

JAMES E. FREW

MRS. E. PAUL BACHMAN

ROBERT KIBBY

* * *

J. B. Bray, chairman of the 1952 Red Feather drive, Oct. 16 through Oct. 25, announced today organization of the drive solicitors is nearing completion.

"Four more leaders have volunteered to head divisions of the coming campaign," said Mr. Bray. "Clubs and organizations will be led by Mrs. E. Paul Bachman, Ray T. Reidenbaugh will head the solicitation of public employes, and James E. Frew will lead the school group."

A new division—suburban business—has been set up for the 1952 drive, and Mr. Bray announced that Robert Kibby has been appointed to head this division.

"Our goal of $97,764 for this year's campaign is a big order," Mr. Bray remarked. "But every penny of it is needed for the enlarged programs and higher operating costs of our Red Feather Agencies next year, in addition to Marion's new agency, the Family Service Society."

"I am certain," he concluded, "that the people who will be doing the work on the drive this year comprise the best organization we have ever had. If everybody in Marion city and county remembers that it's a bigger Red Feather goal—24 percent bigger than last year—we are bound to surpass our goal!"

Soldier Helps Soldier, Theft Is Reward

CARDINGTON — While motoring home from Camp Campbell, Ky., Cpl. Doyle Smith of Cardington picked up two soldiers from Ft. Knox, Ky., to give them a ride into Delaware. Some time after leaving Delaware Cpl. Smith discovered one of the soldiers he had picked up had stolen a $250 camera.

Cpl. Smith has been transferred to Ft. Monroe, Va., where he is stationed with the 50th Army Band. He visited his parents this last week.

Marion Lodge Host to District Moose Meeting

Civic affair activities were emphasized at the seventh district Moose Lodge convention held Sunday night at the Marion lodge.

About 200 members from the nine lodges in the district heard speeches by Earl Edminster of Mt. Vernon, district president, and Harold Schaeffer of Delaware, state director.

Dinner was served after the meeting.

The Marion Moose Lodge met Monday night to plan a banquet in honor of the boys' baseball team sponsored by the lodge, which won the championship in the Bantam League. The banquet, scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 18, will be attended by city officials and church representatives. Trophies will be presented by the baseball commission.

The group will open its social season with a fish fry for members Friday, Oct. 19.

When used to cover a casket, the flag should be placed so that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

HEARD ON this beat: They took a holiday from calling strikes inside the usually teeming national C.I.O. headquarters—and watched strikes being called against their favorite team, the Giants. It appears that there was great sadness among the baseball-crazy crowd in the C.I.O. citadel until the Giants atom-bombed Brooklyn in that final inning, and nabbed the pennant. Usually C.I.O. chiefs, including Alan Haywood who sometimes is spoken of as Phil Murray's successor, would have been for the proletarian Dodgers because Branch Rickey signed up the first big league Negro ball player, Jackie Robinson. But had the Bums won, the C.I.O. addicts couldn't have seen a good part fo the World Series.

Victor Riesel

Apparently, the C I.O. crowd was the only one aware of fact that the Yankee and Giant ball parks are handled by C.I.O. ushers, while forlorn Ebbets Field is an A.F.L. bailiwick — on which the C.I.O. elder statesmen won't poach. The C.I.O. ushers are in Local 368 of the Public Utility Workers of all things, since they're recruited mostly from among Consolidated Edison employes . . . So the boys went to the ball game.

* * *

THOSE MYSTERIOUS, little-publicized T-men, who have more investigatory power than any other Federal police, have completed their survey of mob money in legit business. Now they are probing the incomes of hundreds of mobsters, among the nation's 30,000 big time thugs, goons and gorillas, who moved in on labor in the past few years. Some union chiefs are frightened and are frenziedly cleaning house, fearing indictments next year. Mob bombs in this undercover war were thrown as recently as last week . . .

* * *

OUR OWN ATOM bomb general, Leslie Groves, the man who put together the Manhattan project, doesn't believe the Russians can mass-produce the A-thing for another five years. Not even with the entire MVD (slave labor camp) system . . .

* * *

A HIGHLY respponsible American businessman has a letter from a friend in Santurce, Puerto Rico, saying he can prove that a central committee of Communists there originally planned Mr. Truman's assassination back in 1946—and that the Commies then had high connections in the island government. It's worth probing . . .

* * *

IT WILL BE Cardinal Spellman who'll open the C.I.O. convention in New York next Nov. 5, much to the pleasure of C.I.O. president Philip Murray, one of the most devout of labor leaders. Later, Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg and Congressmen Roosevelt and Javits will speak.

Incidentally, when the A.F.L. convention meets in New York next year, it will hear personally from both the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates, barring any serious conflict in dates. It was for this specific reason that the A.F.L. brain-trusters moved their annual convention date from late November to mid-September . . .

* * *

IN DETROIT this week the C.I.O. decided to settle its own civil wars from now on in this fashion: When two of its unions start to fight over some territory the national office will see to it that they meet on a local level. If that peace parley fails, the fight will go to a sppecial "court" held by executive vice president Alan Haywood. If he fails, he'll call in an outside arbitrator, just as you do in a tough strike. The outsider's decision will be final. Sounds good enough for the A.F.L. too. Could save everybody millions of dollars.

* * *

THE WHOLE country has the job jitters. In Hollywood, some technical craft leaders are worrying about the effect on employment of two startling new developments. The first is the substitution of wire for celluloid in the filming of a picture. The movie actually will be recorded on wire spools, just as speeches are today. The process is completed and sooner or later will be used. At the same time there is now talk of taking the film, or the wire eventually, flashing it on a central screen from which the picture will be televised into a string of movie houses, eliminating individual projection machine booths which have come down from the nickelodeon days . . .

Meanwhile, there's actual suffering in many cities. New England's textiles fields are hit by a still unrecognized recession. In Lawrence, Miss., half the textile workers are jobless, and the textile force makes up half the city's gainfully employed. The other day, the C.I.O. men's clothing workers chief, Jack Potofsky (also spoken of as a possible successor to Phil Murray) asked President Truman to help his people, among whom there's heavy unemployment because men are just not buying clothing as they did. On the New York waterfront, wildcat strikes are threatened because of the idleness of certain piers. Altogether, some 250,000 new jobless have been recorded in the past few weeks. And the figure grows . . .

* * *

DON"T OVERLOOK the actain piers. Altogether, some 2550,-tion of one of the smaller C.I.O. unions in Cleveland the other day. There, the Utility Workers spoke out sharply against the government's sale of electric power coming out of federally owned dams Private companies can do better than the government in the sale of such energy, said the union . . .

This reflects a powerful, but unrecorded, revolt of scores of A F L. and C.I.O. unions against government ownership of big enterpprises. And, it's in sharp contrast with the attitude of the politically successful British Laborites. Apparently the American unions, speaking for almost 1,-000,000 members, can't bargain as well with the government as they can with big business. So, they want the government to unload. So intense has this behind-the-scenes battle become that Oscar Chapman, Secretary of Interior, who handles many of these projects for the U. S. has hired a trouble shooter.

He's ex-Congressman Andrew Biemiller of Milwaukee who makes the rounds trying to learn why the workmen don't like Uncle Sam as a boss.

THIS INFANT WAILED BEFORE BIRTH. In a hospital at Hanford, Calif, Mrs. Beatrice Avilez, 24, poses with her new-born 5-pound 14-ounce daughter, whose cries were heard seven weeks before birth The infant stopped crying as soon as she was born. The young mother said: "Sometimes she cried so much that I began to believe I heard her about 24 hours a days."

Vitamin A To Treat Calluses

Corns and calluses are among the most prevalent of the minor discomforts which afflict civilized man.

Most commonly due to ill-fitting shoes, they may also result from certain occupations which involve persistent pressure or irritation of definite areas of the skin. The harpist, for instance, may develop calluses on the fingers from the plucking of the strings of his instrument, the mechanic, carpenter, or sportsman may have calluses on the hand from the grasping of tools or athletic equipment.

Corns are hardened areas of skin, having a yellowish-white color. They have a core, which is harder than the rest of the corn, and are often painful, especially with changes in the weather. They may become tender when pressed too hard.

What are known as "hard" corns occur where the bones are prominent on the foot, especially on the toes. What are known as "soft" corns occur between the toes, and are generally whiter and softer.

The prevention of corns is of greatest importance. Avoiding the irritation which causes the corn will cure most cases Many times, wearing properly-fitted shoes will prevent the further formation of corns, and will effect a lasting cure of those present.

To soften corns, they may be soaked in warm water to which soap or washing soda has been added. This will soften them enough for removal. However, in diabetics, corns should be carefully removed by an expert.

Various forms of salicylic acid have been used to removed corns Silver nitrate stick may be very helpful in treating corns. The use of a ringed felt pad may be of some held.

Recently, it has been shown that massive doses of vitamin A given for a few months will reduce the number of calluses present on the feet. This method of treatment should only be used in serve cases and those not responding to other forms of treatment. It takes a few weeks before the vitamin A is of any help, and it should always be given under the care of a physician.

Answer: If your tubes are tied, it is impossible for you to become pregnant.

Supreme Court Won't Review Bircham Trial

The Supreme Court yesterday declined to review the murder trial of Earl D. Bircham, former Marion man, who is under death sentence in Kentucky for the killing of a Louisville policeman, The Associated Press reported from Washington.

The policeman, John Tennyson, was shot the night of Aug. 14, 1949 when he tried to arrest Bircham. At the time Bircham was fleeing from Kansas to avoid a prison term for robbery. His attorney, in appeal to the Supreme Court, said that he should have been granted a change in the place of trial.

New Type Signs Given to School

Two school signs of a new type have been given to the Greenwood Street School by a donor who wishes to remain anonymous.

The signs are triangular in shape, supported on a small wheeled cart, and have a battery operated flasher light in the center They are placed in the street to warn drivers to slow down.

They cost $100 each. Police Captain Clyde Hardin said. He is trying to interest other individuals and groups in donating signs for other schools. He believes they are a help in slowing traffic in the school areas. Capt. Hardin is head of the city traffic commission.

State Street P.-T.A. Endorses School Levy

At the first meeting of the school year for the State Street P.-T.A. Oct. 2 at the school, it was voted to endorse the 4-mill school levy. Clyde Tumbleson presided, and Miss Evelyn Hipsher led devotions. Mrs. C. W. Frost was elected first vice president to fill the vacancy left by resignation of Mrs Basil Morgan. Who's Paying?

By Inez Robb

SOUTH BEND, IND.

AS SONS of the Auld Sod look nostalgically home to Ireland, so the hearts of all of America's professional Irishmen turn to South Bend in the autumnal season of football madness.

For on the outskirts of this booming industrial town is Notre Dame University where football was perfected if not invented.. To visit South Bend and not tour Notre Dame is synonymous with going to London and ignoring Westminster Abbey or to Madrid and ignoring the Prado.

Under the guidance of Father John Murphy, one of the university's vice presidents, I have just enjoyed the one-dollar or quick tour of NNotre Dame and found it so interesting I'm sorry there was not time for the grand or ten-dollar trek.

Inez Robb

There are, believe it or not, quite a few classrooms at-tour of Notre Dame's gridiron and stadium. And a great many students do not study football at all, but specialize in such subjects as law, science, liberal arts, commerce and golf (on the university's own 18-hole course).

FATHER MURPHY feels there's no danger of over-emphasis of football at Notre Dame or any likelihood of a scandal there, such as has recently plagued other big schools with championship teams.

"The boys have to keep their grades up when they play football," said Father Murphy. "They have to meet the same scholastic standards as other students and that avoids the trouble"

What about the expelled West Pointers who sought entrance to Notre Dame after an unidentified millionaire philantropist had offered to pay the board, keep and tuition of all who care to enroll at Notre Dame?

"There are nineteen of the West Point men here now," said Father Murphy." After the announcement was made that their way would be paid here if they could meet the entrance requirements, 49 of the West Pointers wrote in, asking for the information on the offer.

"Of that number, 38 made application and 21 were accepted. But two of that number have left since school opened in mid-September. They discovered that they could finish their work for a degree more quickly in other schools. So they left and have since enrolled in other colleges.

* * *

AND HOW ARE the nineteen, dismissed for cheating in West Point exams, making out at Notre Dame?

Well, so far, so good, said Father Murphy. But it is a little early to make predictions, with the school year only three weeks old.

"And now, Father, what about divulging the name of the rich and kind man who is paying the way of the West Point nineteen?" I suggested.

Father Murphy looked singularly innocent.

"Well, I hear it's Joseph P. Kennedy," said Father Murphy, referring to the former American ambassador to the court of St. James and Boston financial strong boy. "What do you hear?" he asked.

"The same," I said.

* * *

"BUT OF COURSE I don't really know," said the vice president of Notre Dame, and butter would not have melted in his mouth. "No one tells me these things.

"And," he added, "I'm happy they don't, because people are always asking me for the name of the man who's paying the bill for these boys. And, of course if I don't know his name, I can't tell, can I?"

Father Murphy's eyes veered 'round toward the stadium.

"Joe was out here for the first game of the season," he continued. "Came out and brought two of his daughters. They all seemed to have a fine time at the game."

Favorite Dream

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

EVERY man would like to do at least one big thing in his life.

So would I. As a matter of fact I would like to steal the Queen Mary.

This is my favorite daydream. It has been for years. Everybody has two types of daydreams—the one in which he is a hero, and the one in which he is a villain.

But in stealing the Queen Mary, I am not exactly sure whether I would be either a hero or a villain. Certainly it would annoy the Cunard people—they don't like people running away with their $25,000,000 steamships. On the other hand I wouldn't steal it for personal profit.

Hal Boyle

It would be a kind of Robin Hood gesture, I think. After I was through stealing it, I would give it to some poor lonely fisherman.

* * *

CAN'T YOU SEE the scene? The great ship glides catlike out of a mist. It heaves to beside the poor fisherman in his miserable little dory.

He looks up startled. Then I shout down to him from the captain's deck:

"Hey, boy, shinny up here, and you got yourself a new boat 975 feet long. Yes, it's yours—all 81,235 tons of it. Sure it's free. Oh, quit thanking me—you embarrass me. It's nothing, really—nothing at all, I tell you."

Then I would fly away in a helicopter. Imagine the poor fisherman's surprise when he got aboard ship and found he had to untie 2,000 passengers and 1,200 crew members, including a furious, red-faced captain.

* * *

WHEN I FIRST started daydreaming about stealing the Queen Mary I thought of doing it with a pirate gang. My idea was to take the gold cargo, scuttle the great ship, and escape with my gang in a motor boat.

But the more I thought of it the more that seemed like a pretty dirty trick. Besides it would be too easy—child's play for even a Chinese pirate.

Finally, I decided the only way to do it properly was to do it singlehanded. That way a man could make real history.

The plan I have worked out is quite simple. I land on the Queen Mary at sea in my helicopter. They escort me to the captain's cabin. As soon as we are alone I jam a gat into his ribs and tie him up.

Next I go to the radio room and tie up the operators there before they can flash an alarm. Ater that I keep calling the officers and crew into their quarters until I have tied up all 1,200 of them.

Already a great air search is on for the missing liner, which I have steered off the main sea lanes. The passengers are mystified. What puzzles them is that the crew seems to be gone—and they themselves are disappearing. Actually they aren't really disappearing. I am just luring them into their cabins and tying them up.

* * *

FINALY ALL 2,000 of them are secuprely knotted, too. The great Queen Mary is now mine—all mine. The only problem now is to get rid of her. So I sail on until I find a poor fisherman and donate the ship to him gratis.

This daydream is so easy to carry out that a lot of people I have mentioned it to usually ask:

"Why don't you do it? It's a marvelous idea."

Well, the answer is quite simple.

I get seasick.

The Methodist Church W.S.C.S. met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Lillie Jones. Following the worship service, conducted by Mrs. George Raub, the business of the society was transacted, with Mrs. William Trihaft presiding. The group decided to hold meetings on Wednesday afternoons instead of evenings, beginning with the December meeting. The society voted to hold the annual election day dinner in the church addition and the president appointed a committee to be in charge of cleaning windows in the new addition. Mrs. Roy Crimes was named as chairman of publicity for the election dinner and Mrs. Earl James will be chairman of soliciting for the dinner. It was announced that the opening and consecration of the new addition would take place on Sunday Nov. 25 with morning and afternoon services and a basket dinner at noon. The Week of Prayer observance will be marked with a service on Oct. 31. The W.S.C.S. conference will be held in Zanesville Oct. 10 and 11. Delegates to the conference will be Mrs. Albert Amstutz and Mrs. Ivah Owens.

Mrs. Owens was in charge of the program the theme of which was "Christian Social Relations." A playlet was given by Mrs. Donald Virden, Mrs. Trihaft, Misses Mae Keeler, Martha Horne, and LaVerne Weist. Miss Barbara Snyder, a guest, played a group of flute solos. A paper, "The United Nations," prepared by Mrs. Roland McElheny was read by Mrs. Bernard Wright. The program closed with a skit presented by Mrs. Lloyd Williamson, Mrs. Bernard Littell, Mrs. Owens and Miss Keeler and entitled "The U.N. and Christian Principles." The program chairman, Mrs. Amstutz, announced that the next meeting would be on Latin America and would feature a chili supper to be held in the new church addition.

Freedom To Oppose

THE 11 Communist leaders convicted in Judge Medina's court in 1949 on a charge of conspiracy to overthrow the government have lost their final appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court. For all but the last few months of that two-year span, all of them remained at large. Four are still at large.

In the petition for a rehearing, it was claimed that conviction might "be construed by law-enforcing authorities on every governmental level to impose a ban on outlawry upon the Communist Party."

That could happen only in the sense that an active Communist would be subject to arrest and indictment under the same federal law used against the 11 Communists convicted in 1948. But since their trial something has happened to Communists in addition to the demonstration that they can be prosecuted for seditious conspiracy.

They have lost the right to ask tolerance of the American people. Their freedom to advocate has been offset by the freedom to oppose what they advocate. It is no longer assumed that they are acting in behalf of a native American movement. It is no longer assumed that they are either harmless crackpots, or impotent revolutionaries. By their own relentless efforts they have destroyed the assumption which they abused for years—that the Communist Party was just another political movement.

It is an international conspiracy to overthrow established governments and to replace them with dictatorships set up by the Kremlin. The trial of the 11 Communists in 1949 and events in Yugoslavia have left no room for doubt about the intentions of the Communists.

Patience, Men

IMAGINE a mist-shrouded hillside in Korea. It is October, and winter soon will settle in. Guns rumble in the distance. Somewhere in the darkness ahead lies a group of Red soldiers, watching, waiting for a chance to open fire on a band of weary Americans plodding up a rocky trail.

The Americans have heard of plans for bringing the war to a quick conclusion . . . something about fantastic new weapons developed by the United States. It is possible that the enemy may have heard, too, and that he may redouble his efforts to call what might be a bluff.

This is the saddest season of the year in Korea, too—saddest not only because of watery sunrises and early darkness but saddest because there still is no end in sight after months of savage combat. The brave men resisting the Reds there—and the men who are not brave but are resisting the Reds anyway—must wish sometimes there would be no more talk about fantastic new weapons to take them off the spot until the time had come to use the weapons.

No Alternative

WHEN the board of trustees of Ohio State meets later this month, it will have before it a resolution adopted by the faculty of the University's College of Education.

The resolution asks the conference committee of the University teaching staff and the faculty council to ask the University trustees to reconsider a decision made early in September requiring advance screenings of speakers by the University president.

This decision grew out of speeches on the Ohio State campus by a Columbia University educator whose usefulness in his field has been impaired for years by his devotion to socialism and his failure to keep it separate from his professional advice. The resolution of the College of Education faculty speaks of the screening rule as "an apparent infringement of the principles of faculty responsibility and of freedom of learning and teaching."

It thus becomes the duty of the Ohio State trustees to persuade faculty members that the "apparent infringement" is no infringement at all, but only the routine assertion of the obligation of a board responsible for a public school to act in a responsible manner. The fact is—and the faculty members in Ohio State University all know it—that a fuss is being stirred up over a matter which could be decided only one way. The trustees decided it that way.

Liberals in the Middle

OF ALL the lessons that Americans may learn from British politics, none could be more pointed than the lesson of what happens to liberals who get caught in the middle.

British liberals, like their counterparts in the United States, were dissatisfied with the right wing and leary of the left wing. But mostly they veered to the left because they were taken in by the monstrous claim that the Labor party, with its platform of socialism, was interested in classical liberalism.

When that hoax was exposed by the party's authoritarian attitude, the liberals were stranded. More than 300 of them in 1950 failed to muster enough votes to save their election deposits, required of candidates in Britain.

Stalin's Statement

By David Lawrence

Shows Russia Scared by U. S. Defense Program

WASHINGTON

ONLY from Joseph Stalin comes uncensored news out of Russia. For he is boss there and decides what shall be said. Hence anything he says or writes constitutes the most important evidence to the outside world of what is going on in his mind.

Stalin's latest statement is the most revealng document on the effect of American policy on Russia that has yet been disclosed and, if analyzed word for word in the light of what is occurring in this country, it will yield plenty of interesting information. These conclusions can be drawn from the Stalin statement:

LAWRENCE

1. Peace in the world is assured for an indefinite period.

2. Russia recognizes the lead in armamentwhich America has and will not attack the allies.

3. Russia has been scared by the size of the American defense program and by the recent announcements from American official sources about tactical use of the atom bomb.

4. Fearing that the Russian people may react nervously to President Truman's challenging statement that the Soviets are now embarked on a program of war preparation through the explosion of their second atom bomb, the Communist chief with only a few days elapsing has promptly sought by his statement to prevent that impression from taking hold inside the "Iron Curtain" countries. It is evidence that the American statement of last Wednesday was shrewdly conceived and has accomplished its object from a counter-propaganda standpoint.

* * *

THE FOREGOING points are derived from the context of the Stalin statement which oddly enough protests too much on certain points and thus betrays the innermost concern of the Soviets. Many a person who is shaking and quivering in a moment of danger often insists that he isn't scared. Stalin says:

"Personages in the United States are vexed because the secret of the atom bomb is possessed not only by the United States but also by other countries, the Soviet Union primarily. They would like the United States to be the monopolist of the production of the atom bomb. They would like the United States to have unlimited power to intimidate and blackmail other countries."

Next comes the proof that Stalin respects American productive power and our lead in the atomic race for he then pleads that "the interests of preserving peace require first of all the liquidation of such a monopoly and then the unconditional prohibition of the atomic weapon, too." He then naïvely adds this bit of wishful thinking:

"I think that the proponents of the atom bomb may agree to the prohibition of the atomic weapon only if they see they are no longer monopolists."

* * *

WHAT STALIN is really saying is that his explosion of a second atom bomb is intended to prove to America it has no monopoly and he is ready to agree to the liquidation of our larger and better supply of atom bombs by using his small, if not insignificant, supply as a trading point. It is transparently a sign of weakness.

The mere fact that so much of his statement is devoted to a reiteration of the Soviet point of view about prohibiting the use of the atomic weapon altogether indicates clearly moreover that the Soviets are desperately seeking the adoption of any program of international control which starts first with the destruction of all of America's bombs.

It's an understandable tactic on the part of a weaker party but it is also a signal to the big United States that the atom bomb is destined to become a big issue psychologically inside Russia and that when the present crowd in the Kremlin are thrown out of power some day by the Russian people the problem of international control of the atomic bomb could be the means to a peaceful understanding with an emancipated nation. It could rid the whole world of atomic jitters. The atom bomb is looked upon everywhere as a weapon of war but it could conceivably become a great instrument of peace.

Curled Yak Hair

By TRUMAN TWILL

A LETTER from an auld acquaintance of 25 years ago starts off so tantalizingly it cannot be put out of mind.

"This has been coming on for some months," says the writer. "It was first suggested by the monstrously pompous spinach of - - - in a publication of some sort that came to my desk early in the summer. I meant to take it up with him in a light vein, but after a closer study of the face above it decided that probably all levity was far behind him."

The writer then explains that a more recent incident reminiscent of another pompous acquaintance finally made it necessary to renew contact with a gent who apparently has been remembered all these years chiefly in connection with unbuttoning stuffed shirts when both of us were much younger. This shared satisfaction was so memorable it produced a letter after a quarter of a century. And it is admitted at the receiving end that the satisfaction here is increased by the fact the writer of the letter is — was — one of the most charming of all co-eds of her generation.

Without knowing it away back then, both of us were starting a lifetime habit of reserving the rights to probe for stuffing in all shirts which excited suspicion, and without knowing whether or not is has been fun for this young lady of our former acquantance, we can report from our present vantage point of years that it has been a very satisfactory hobby. There has been only one thing wrong with it.

There is no future in it, old friend, no future at all. There you stand in spilled-out stuffing, old shirts and shattered illusions up to your knees and no one is any the better for it. Because for every shirt you manage to unstuff to your own satisfaction, a dozen more shirts are being stuffed somewhere else — faster than you can keep track of them.

And all the friends and admirers of all the stuffed shirts you have spotted either hate you for telling the truth or secretly despise you for not telling the truth, provided you clam up and say nothing. Take our old friend whose "monstrously pompous spinach" set you off.

That may be spinach to you and me, old-timer, but ain't spinach in his circle of influence, which now is considerable. He is the gent who will be invited to make the commencement address one of these days while you and I, if we happen to be present, which is unlikely, will be sitting under a tree being irreverent about his irrelevance.

No one would want to hear what we would say, even if we had the brass to think what we might say would be worth saying. But a great many will listen to what he will say just as surely as the two of us almost were cast into outer darkness for developing a premature aptitude for spotting spinach.

And if you didn't know, old-timer, that other pompous mutual acquaintance you mentioned — you should see and hear him now. Stuffing out to here. Nothing but the finest curled flame-resistant yak hair scented to make it smell like lilacs in Maytime. And people love him. Mmmm. He is a pillar of his community—stuffing and all!

Politics Among the Governors

By Raymond Moley

AS THIS observer left the Governors' Conference in Gatlinburg last week his conclusions about the cloudy political situation were measurably but not greatly clarified. As is always the case in a pre-election year, the conference was buzzing with speculative political talk. The preference poll of Republican governors was, as has been reported in the press, nine for Eisenhower, four for Taft, and 12 non-committal.

The large number who refused to express a choice is an indication of how indeterminate the situation is at this time. Some of the 12 definitely have preferences, but for prudential, or rather for political security reasons, they wish to avoid commitments. A bit of personal inquiry assures me that two of them are for Eisenhower, and two or three prefer Taft to the general. Most of the other non-committal statesmen are either nourishing dark-horse ambitions of their own or are looking toward some candidate other than Taft and Eisenhower.

MOLEY

* * *

MOREOVER, AMONG those who publicly declared for Eisenhower, there were various qualifications attached to their preference. At least one and probably more of these say privately that to get their support at the convention next summer Eisenhower will have to give up his European mission in January or February and come out definitely as a Republican and as a candidate. These experienced politicians say positively that there will be no last-minute draft. They do not want another Willkie situation. They believe that their party cannot afford to have a candidate whose Republicanism is doubtful and who might very well favor Democratic policies after being elected by Republican votes.

There is a feeling, expressed by well-versed scribes who were present at the conference, that to get the nomination there must be something more than the assurances of Eisenhower supporters that the general is a Republican at heart, that he is against the socialistic schemes of the Fair Deal, that he will not metoo the foreign policy of the present Administration, and that he will comport himself as a Republican President after election. Some time, he must, like John Alden, speak for himself.

* * *

IF THIS DOES not happen and if next spring's presidential primaries come and go without any sign from the principal in this Eisenhower movement, the nomination will go to Taft or to some other authentic Republican.

The situation in the South was clarified by what Gov. James Byrnes said at the conference. Perhaps it ought to be added that the Byrnes meaning was not exactly conveyed by his words, but by the implications and connotations of his words. The real meaning is that there will be no Dixiecrat candidate as there was three years ago. There will be no coalition according to the specifications of the Mundt plan.

The South, however, will be more independent in its thinking and voting than it has been for 75 years. That means more so than it has been since the dark days of the Reconstruction. From eight to 12 southern states will seek legal means to elect slates of electors pledged to various candidates who are opposed to Truman and his policies.

* * *

THIS WILL PROBABLY mean that such a group of around 75 to 90 electors will hold the balance of power in the electoral college. This group may then call the turn in the first genuinely deliverative electoral college since the creation of the Constitution. This gives point and meaning to Byrd's statement in his Atlanta speech that the Democratic party cannot elect a President without the support of the South.

These imponderables, North and South, make it clear why no one should set himself up as a prophet. Would-be prophets should keep in mind what happened to baseball writers this year.

These uncertainties and their implications also make it clear that 1952 may be the most interesting political year in our history.

U. S. Tops in Health

RATED NO. 1 AMONG LARGE NATIONS

CHICAGO

THE United States is the healthiest large nation in the world, and close to, if not ahead of, the healthiest of the small nations, it was reported in Today's Health, published by the American Medical Association.

An article written by Frank G. Dickinson, Ph. D., director of the Bureau of Medical Economic Research of the A.M.A., states that "our rate of health progress, as shown by increasing life expectancy, is also greater than that of the other large nations and nearly all of the small nations. Our rapid adoption of the knowledge that medical science has gained makes this possible."

The extent of our medical facilities is also a factor in this progress, the article reported.

"We have the greatest number of physicians per 100,000 population of any nation in the world except Palestine, where many of the refugee physicians do not make their living by practicing medicine," Dr. Dickinson wrote.

"Although we have chosen to spend only four cents in every dollar of our family budget for medical care, we seem to use our expenditures rather well."

Dr. Dickinson pointed out that although in Sweden only one-fifth of all births are attended by physicians, there is an extremely low maternal mortality rate. However, he noted that Swedish persons live longer in Minnesota than in Sweden.

The former fact shows, the article concluded, "that physiological and environmental differences are important as well as differences in medical facilities. Yet, with the cooperation of engineering and other professions, medicine has produced remarkable health progress in the United States."

Jumping Mouse

CARBONDALE, Ill. — (AP) — The kangaroo of the mouse world is the meadow jumping mouse, which can leap six feet high, or cover 10 feet in a broad jump. This mouse, Zapus Hudsonius, is about the size of an ordinary field mouse, but has a tail nearly five inches long and rear legs one and one-half inches long. They're usually found in southern states, but some have moved into southern Illinois. Dr. Willard M. Gersbacher, zoologist of Southern Illinois university, says they are active only at night. The jumping thing that auto headlights sometimes pick up on the road may be not a frog, but a meadow jumper going traveling.

Mórral became an incorporated village at a special election on March 30, 1904. At the first election for selection of officers L. C. Louthan was chosen mayor, F. S. White, clerk, F. L. Berry, marshal and John Washburn, treasurer. The principal industrial business of the village was a canning factory established by John Morral in the early 1890's who canned tomatoes in his tile factory.

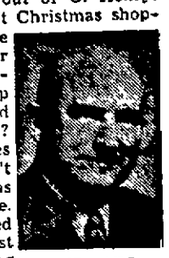
The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Santa With a Diploma

A man who died at 74 the other day and left an estate of $136,445 to Williams College was found to have been a college grad and department store Santa Claus. It seems to this department that this is something out of O. Henry. How many thousands of adult Christmas shoppers passed him, feeling a little sorry for him as just another old man forced to take a part-time job" How many sized up his general appearance and thought "He's not the type"? How many skeptical kiddies said scornfully, "Aw, dere ain't no Santa Claus!" Yet here was apparently a real Kris Kringle. How he must have chuckled as he realized that the last thing anybody in the shopping crowds suspected was that he was a college man, an alumnus of a great university, a fellow who could open a stable of reindeers with the keys to a safety deposit box.



PHILLIPS

* * *

His name was Burritt Finch Prudden and he played the department store Santa role just to have something to do. He left most of his money to his alma mater to help deserving students. Prudden is described as a genial gentleman who never got many breaks in life, worked hard and managed to get his pile through careful investments over many years. And in his seventies nothing gave him the satisfaction that came to him during the Yuletide as he played Santa in the big department store and made kiddies a little happier. Whether he was ever voted "Most likely to succeed" in his college days has not been looked into, but he might well have been. Did any of his classmates know a greater success? After all, a department store Santa can win the love of countless children, and an adoration found in few other occupations.

There are thousands of college graduates who know high achievement. Some can create an atomic force capable of leveling a city. But they go through life never knowing the power to put a glow into the eyes of a city's small fry. Some can build a major industry, replete with roaring factories, mills, docks, railroad sidings and accounting houses. But have they ever mastered the secret of a smile or gesture that brings jingle bells to the ears of the young or produces a new star in the eastern sky?

* * *

Among the classmates of this man there may have been boys who went on to become top bankers, great editors, or powerful statesmen. But did they ever make hordes of children hear a pawing of reindeer hooves on the roof? Did they ever show any ability to make the Holy Night a glistening thing? Was there among them another man who could make "visions of sugar plums dance in their heads"?

* * *

In any class in any college there are those who go forward to scale the heights, achieve great prestige, make fortunes and build mightily in one way or another. From one man comes a drama, a great novel, beautiful verse; from another a marvelous invention, a miracle drug, wide public service, fine paintings or an annual statement reporting "record earnings which will make possible an increase in the dividend." But how many kids have looked at them and seen:

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fall,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the housetop the coursers they flew,
With a sleigh full of toys, and Saint Nicholas, too.

* * *

We feel a little different about department store and street-corner Kris Kringles now. And also about those college student ballotings on "the most likely to succeed."

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Thursday, Oct. 9, 1941.

President Roosevelt, asserting it was time for the United States to "stop playing into Hitler's hands, and to unshackle our own," urged Congress to revise the neutrality act speedily to permit the arming of American merchant vessels.

Herman J. Feidner, former Marion city and county engineer, died in St. Francis Hospital at Columbus.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sult of 471 East Center street and to Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Neal of Morral.

Leslie L. Ziler, 50-year-old Galion railroader, received a medal for bravery in saving the life of Mrs. Kate Alexander, 70, of 283 Willow street when she was struck by a Big Four freight train in Marion on May 15.

Mrs. J. E. Frew of South Greenwood street was hostess to the Art Club for a program meeting.

Wallet Posset of near Upper Sandusky, state corn husking champ in 1939, won the annual Wyandot County shock corn husking contest near Carey, while Donald Elliott of near Upper Sandusky won the standing corn event.

A trio of second-half touchdowns earned Marion St. Mary gridders an 18-0 triumph over Forest in a clash on Harding stadium field. Scoring for St. Mary were George Shoup, Dave Rochford and Captain Jim Schuler, the latter two on passes from Bob McGinnis.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Friday, Oct. 9, 1931.

Needing only one victory, the St. Louis Cardinals, playing on their home field, blew a chance to clinch the World Series when the Philadelphia Athletics beat them 8 to 1. The A's won the game after Pitcher Derringer crumpled and the Cards defense blew wide open. Lefty Grove was the winning pitcher.

Reduction of war debt payments due United States by European governments will be considered only if the debtor nations effect drastic curtailment of armaments, President Hoover declared.

The Marion Metal Products Co. of Mansfield was destroyed by fire with a loss of $150,000.

The huge Navy dirigible, U.S.S. Akron, went aloft on her sixth test flight from the Goodyear dock at Akron, where the craft was built.

The enrollment of the Marion County schools was 3,162, according to a report filed by Superintendent C. B. Rayburn.

Stuart Danner, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Danner of 664 Girard avenue, died at St. Vincent's Hospital in Toledo after an illness of 10 weeks.

Playgrounds Attendance Is 27,019

Director Reports On Summer Activities Of Marion Children

A total of 27,019 children attended playground sessions at six playgrounds in the city during the park period from June 11 through Sept. 1.

These figures were set by Paul Midlam, city playground director, in a report of the Marion Recreation Board at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the mayor's office.

Mr. Midlam posted the figures by parks. The parks had the following attendance when the season ended: McKinley, 5,828; Lincoln, 6,747; Eagles playground, 3,688; Glenwood, 5,605; Forest Lawn, 80; and Garfield, 5,071. The Forest Lawn playground was open for the first week only before being moved to Garfield Park.

Mr. Midlam reported a total of $60 worth of playground equipment had been purchased during the summer and advised the board to plan purchases of more equipment for the 1952 season.

Playground supervisors at all the parks turned in individual reports of their activities. All supervisors reported a lot of interest was shown by children as well as adults during the playground sessions. These supervisors included C. R. Andrews at Lincoln Park, G. D. Shoup at Glenwood playground, Lawrence R. Werly at the Eagles playground, Robert Hudnall at the Garfield Park playground and Dale Kinsell at the McKinley Park playground.

Heating, Plumbing Shop In New Location

The H. E. Robinson heating and plumbing shop has been moved from the North State street residence of Mr. Robinson to a store at 178 North Main street.

Mr. Robinson's sons, Floyd and Walter, are in the business with him. Another son is Mayor Harold F. Robinson.

ENTERTAINS W.B.A.

Mrs. Anna Miller entertained the Women's Benefit Association Wednesday at her home at 407 Windsor street, with Mrs. Daisy Kohler in charge of business. Plans were made for a noon dinner meeting Nov. 7 at the home of Mrs. Hazel Rech at 254 South Grand avenue.

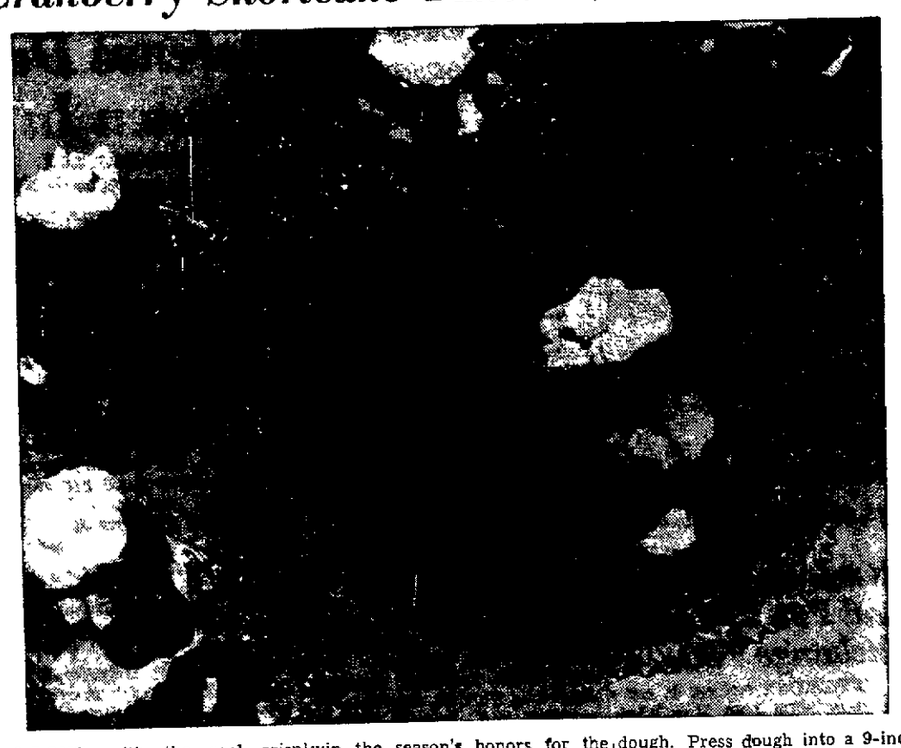
Cranberry Shortcake Takes Dessert Honors



ALONG with the cool crisp days, autumn ushers in a new social season. Clubs take up with renewed enthusiasm where they left off in the spring and cooks scurry around for new ideas in refreshments.

Quick to the rescue are these palate-pleasing and taste-tempting cranberry shortcakes. You'll have to store the filling in the refrigerator until the social hour or you'll be tempted to serve dessert first, and it's a good bet you'll win the season's honors for the most inspired cooking after you've served them.

CRANBERRY FESTIVAL SHORTCAKE

1 cup canned crushed pineapple (9 oz. can)
1 cup finely chopped or shredded red apple
1 cup canned whole cranberry sauce

Combine ingredients and let stand at room temperature ½ to 1 hour before serving. Make fruit shortcake (individual). Split biscuits while piping hot and serve shortcake style with the fruit mixture. Serves 6.

CRANBERRY FLUFF SHORTCAKE

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
5 t baking powder
1 t salt
½ pint cottage cheese
1 lb. can whole cranberry sauce
2 T sugar
¼ cup shortening
2/3 cup milk

Mix the flour, baking powder, salt, sugar; cut in the shortening and add milk to make a soft dough. Press dough into a 9-inch cake pan and bake in a hot oven (450 F.) for 15 minutes. Split cake while it is hot and spread the following between the layers:

Spread cottage cheese over the bottom layer and spread whole cranberry sauce over the cottage cheese, reserving some sauce to spoon onto the top of the servings, if desired.

In the Service

Pfc. Marvin L. Mulligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mulligan of Richwod, recently arrived at the 6161st Air Base Wing in Japan. He has been assigned as an air policeman in support of B-29 Superfort units. Old Autos To Visit Marion

The annual fall caravan of the Ohio Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America will be held this weekend with Marion as a stopping-off point.

The tour will be made by some 12 antique automobiles and will leave Mt. Vernon Saturday afternoon. The tour is expected to arrive in Marion around 4 or 5 p. m. A dinner meeting has been set for Saturday night at Hotel Harding. During the meeting, pictures of the region's summer activities will be shown.

The caravan will leave Marion Sunday morning for Mansfield and then return to Mt. Vernon. The tour is held each fall. Charles Jackson of Mt. Vernon is in charge of the 1951 tour while Earl Richardson of Ravenna is director of the Ohio Region.

HOSTESS TO CIRCLE

For a meeting of Wesley Methodist Circle No. 3 Thursday, Mrs. C. M. Tobin was hostess in her home on Sugar street. Devotions were by Mrs. Effie McCrery on "Fruits of the Spirit — Peace." During business, 37 calls were reported made on the ill and shutin. Study from the book of Acts was in charge of Mrs. Fred Upton. Poems were read by Mrs. L. E. Reardon, and Mrs. James Barkley read an article. Entertainment included contests. Luncheon appointments were in keeping with the Halloween season. Mrs. D. B. Dutton of Canton, daughter of the hostess, was a guest. An all-day sewing will be held Oct. 18 at the home of Mrs. R. E. Davis on Herman street.

LEGION PLANS DANCE

Plans for a square and round dance to be held at the Armory, Oct. 27, were made when the G.I. Post, American Legion, met Wednesday night at the Veterans' Memorial Home. Music will be furnished by Frosty Gustin and his orchestra. In charge of the monthly dances is Dale Brown.

THE CENTRAL IDEA
Things you'd like to know about your Railroad
Lightening Your Tax Load
NEW YORK CENTRAL SYSTEM

1. LIKE YOUR HOME, plant or store, railroad property pays local taxes. In your own state—Ohio—New York Central paid taxes totaling more than $3,200,000 last year. And that sum was in addition to the $39,000,000 lift Central gave you with your Federal tax load!

2. CENTRAL HELPS local taxpayers foot the bill for some very important things. Fire departments that guard property and help keep down insurance rates. Schools for your youngsters. Police protection that makes the American hometown one of the world's safest places to live.

3. IT'S IRONIC that Central's taxes also help pay for airports, canals, and extra heavy, extra costly highways. For it's these tax-subsidized facilities that let airlines, barges, heavy trucks and intercity busses compete with your self-supporting Railroad . . . at the expense of all taxpayers!

4. BUT ANY WAY they are used, railroad tax dollars mean that much less for you and your neighbors to pay on tax day. Paying taxes is one more way in which New York Central forms a living part of every community along its 11,000 miles. And that's the CENTRAL IDEA!

USE OF DDT

Since the end of World War II and the release of DDT many gardeners have nursed high hope of ending insect pests, plant diseases and weeds painlessly. But there is a pitfall in the use of many of these chemicals. And it has been discovered that in killing the red spider—it has also killed the natural enemies of the red spider. DDT kills insect friends as well as enemies.

Miss Yarrington Becomes Bride Of Raymond Shivers

THE HOME OF the bride's parents was the scene of the wedding Friday, Oct. 5, of Miss Janice L. Yarrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mason S. Yarrington of Richwood, and Raymond T. Shivers of Marion He is the son of Mrs. Ralph Shivers of Dennison, O., and the late Mr. Shivers. The couple repeated their vows at 8 o'clock in the evening before an arrangement of shell pink and white gladioli and two seven-branch candelabra. Bouquets of pink and white carnations completed the decorations. Rev. Robert Turner, pastor of the Richwood First Baptist Church, officiated

For her wedding, the bride chose a street length dress of peacock blue nylon net over champagne satin. The bodice was button trimmed down the front and had short sleeves edged with wide cuffs. The skirt was full. She wore with this a cameo necklace and matching earrings and an orchid corsage.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Kay Cope of Marion. She wore a two-piece dress of bengaline in a pale aqua blue shade, styled with long sleeves completed with tiny cuffs and a full pleated skirt. Her shoulder corsage was of pink carnations.

James Robert White of Marion, formerly of Dennison, served as best man for the bridegroom Ring bearer was Jerry Pfarr, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony, with Mrs. Mildred Pfarr, Mrs. James R White and Miss Donna Price serving A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the bride's table. When the couple left on a wedding trip through eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania, Mrs. Shivers was wearing a green gabardine suit with gray accessories and her bridal orchid They will live at 118 Beatty avenue in Richwood.

Mrs. Shivers was graduated from Richwood High School and the Marion Business College. She is a member of Alpha Iota Sorority. Mr. Shivers, a graduate of Dennison High School, served four years with the U. S. Army, with three years of that time in the Pacific area Both are employed at The Marion Star. Mrs Shivers is secretary to J. K. Staats, display advertising manager, and Mr. Shivers is a linotype operator.

At the rehearsal party held Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Yarrington presented a necklace and earrings to her maid of honor, and Mr. Shivers gave his best man and the ring bearer tie clasps.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Ralph Shivers, Mr. and Mrs. E L. Shivers and son, Donnie, Mr. and Mrs Ralph Shivers Jr, and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brandon, all of Dennison, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Palmar and son, Harry, of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. James Robert White, Miss Kay Cope and Miss Donna Price, all of Marion, Mrs. Blanche Yarrington and Mrs. Cora Woods, grandmothers of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John Pfarr Jr. and children, Judy, Jerry, Teddy and Peggy, Mrs. Helen Rubeck, Mrs William Adams, Mrs. Charles Davis and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Meader, all of Richwood.

Weddings

Mrs. Virginia Grover and Harold Schweinfurth, both of Marion, were married Saturday, Sept. 29, in the First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Howard L. Olewiler performed the single ring ceremony at 11 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Flanigan of Marion attended the couple.

Mr. Schweinfurth is canning department foreman at the Quaker Oats Co. and his wife is employed at the Cory Rubber Co.

After a short wedding trip to Detroit, Mich., and Winsor, Ontario, they are living at 827 Davids street.

Miss Joan Wiseman And Pvt. Galloway Exchange Vows

A CEREMONY uniting in marriage Miss Joan Mae Wiseman and Pvt. Kenneth Wade Galloway was performed Sunday, Sept. 23, at the Howard Tewalt home at 369 West Columbia street, before an improvised altar of baskets of white gladioli with greenery, and seven-branch candelabra. Rev. William Reeves of Wesley Methodist Church read the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Marion G Wiseman of 120 North Greenwood street and the late Mr. Wiseman, and her husband is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Galloway of 308 South State street. The Tewalts are brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her brother, James Wiseman, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white satin fashioned with full skirt and featuring a fitted jacket trimmed with self covered buttons and long sleeves which ended in points over her hands. Her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion was designed and made by her sister-in-law, Mrs. M G Wiseman Jr. It cascaded from a crown of white satin trimmed with seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was a white orchid snowered with white satin streamers and tied with bows and plumosus, carried on a white Bible.

Miss Alene Allen, maid of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of nile green net, made with a full skirt and fitted bodice. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses in fan shape.

Pamela Sue Wiseman, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a yellow taffeta dress and carried a basket of Italian straw filled with flowers of various colors, tied with green and yellow ribbons.

Robert Rinesmith of Marion served as best man. Mrs. Tewalt was the candlelighter

For the reception, the appointments were in green and white. A three-tier wedding cake circled with white gladioli and greenery decorated the table.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride was wearing a wine suit with navy blue accessories, and her bridal orchid.

She was graduated from Harding High School this year and is employed with the Fairfield Engineering Co. as a clerk-typist. Her husband is a graduate of Harding with the class of 1949, and before entering service, he was assistant manager of the Palace Theater. He has been stationed at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., and will go in the near future from Seattle, Washington to duty overseas.

At the rehearsal party in the Tewalt home, the bride presented her maid of honor with a rhinestone necklace, and her flower girl with gold locket and chain. Gift to the best man was cufflinks.

Town and Country Garden Club Unit Closes Season

MRS. FRED RANKIN of Akron was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Town and Country Unit of the Marion Garden Club Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Wilbur H. Symes of Uhler road. Associate hostesses for the meeting, which marked the close of the season, were Mrs. J. B. Bray, Mrs. John F. Lacey, Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz, Mrs. Andrew E. Knapp and Mrs. Rex Kilbourn.

Mrs. Rankin gave a talk on her trip to South America which she illustrated with colored slides. Dessert preceded the program hour. Business included annual reports by chairmen and committees.

The meeting closed with a welcome to the new president, Mrs. Andrew E. Knapp. Officers who will serve with Mrs. Knapp when the unit opens the season early in the new year are Mrs. L. D. Hamilton, vice president, Mrs. Clare Smith, recording secretary, Miss Maud Gorham, corresponding secretary and Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz, treasurer.

Draft Possible If Drive Fails

Defense Dept. Needs Women In Uniform

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

THE Washington grapevine has it that a women's draft may be considered if the next big recruitment push doesn't entice enough girls into uniform.

Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg has made it clear that the Department of Defense must have a large charge of womenpower to take over defense jobs now being filled by men in the armed services. The department has set a deadline of July, 1952, for the enrollment of 112,000 women in all branches of the armed services—a large increase over the present total of 30,000.

If the recruitment drive, starting Nov. 11, is not successful, a request for Congressional action on a women's draft may be the next step

Such a move, however, would be packed with political dynamite, especially in an election year.

• • •

AT LEAST TWO of Mrs Rosenberg's committee of 48 women appointed to assist in the recruitment drive believe the American public would raise a loud, determined howl of protest at any suggestion of a compulsory draft of womanpower.

Says Sarah Blanding, president of Vassar College and a member of the committee.

"The majority of the public probably would be violently opposed to drafting women.

"I feel strongly that a draft is not the answer, but that what we need is a national registration of women. There are many fields in which women can contribute to defense, for instance, getting competent teachers in our schools is fully as important as enrolling women in the armed services.

"Such a registration would record the talents and training of the women of the country. And every woman would be asked to make a contribution in the field in which she is best qualified.

"I am convinced that there is a great interest on the part of women to shoulder their responsibilities in this period of national preparation, but many do not know how they could be useful, or what they should do to make their willingness known

"A national registration of women would be expensive, but I believe it would be worthwhile."

• • •

MILDRED McAFEE HORTON, head of the Waves during World War II and former president of Wellesley College, also a member of the committee, says:

"I do not think a women's draft would be feasible, because of the general opposition of the public.

"The question of a national compulsory registration of women was discussed, however, at a recent meeting of the American Council of Education in New York

"The question was considered by a small committee, which reported favorably on it, with the specification that it must be made clear that such a registration would have no connection with the armed services.

"It was felt that if there were even a suggestion of a possible draft of women, the whole program would be repudiated by the people. There is no doubt that the great preponderance of opinion is definitely against a women's draft.

"A national registration of women would be costly, and its chief value would be to call the attention of the nation's women to the need for their services, and to point the way for volunteers in various fields.

"There would be no compulsion as to job assignments, but such a registration would provide information as to the talents and training of women, and also would establish a centralization of such information"

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Halley's Comet

I have now seen Rudolph Halley as investigator, as candidate for public office, and as television star of his own show, "Crime Syndicated," and I can't help thinking that Halley's comet is getting a little over-extended, that it may just explode and vanish with a shower of brilliant sparks.

What, I keep asking myself, is Mr. Halley after, exactly? A lot of legal practice or public office or Arthur Godfrey's Hooperating? I don't think it's possible to have all three, though Mr. Halley seems bent in that direction. As chief counsel for the Kefauver committee, Halley was enormously impressive, especially to the womenfolk. He was a monstrously cool character — skeptical, urbane, precise, knowledgeable and, at the same time, eminently fair to even the lowest denizens of the underworld.

John Crosby

* * *

IF THERE WAS any disapproval, it was implicit in his questions; it showed not at all in his manner. However, Halley the candidate, and especially Halley the TV narrator, is a different dish of tea entirely. The political and the commercial Halleys reek with disapproval of all us sinners here below. This high note of moral sanctity is, I expect, unavoidable in both candidate and TV star but it it doesn't' sit very well with those thoughtful citizens who pause to reflect that this pious customer is commercializing pretty heavily on the notoriety he gained through a Congressional inquiry.

As candidate for president of the New York City Council and as entreacte narrator for his TV show, Halley has dwelt on the abuse of public trust implicit in official connivance with the underworld. He has a sound point there but I'd like to interject the thought that there is a certain abuse of public trust in former chief counsels of Congressional committees who suddenly become TV stars on the strength of the public clamor they kicked up in their former roles.

* * *

AND NOW, HAVING divested myself of a certain amount of moral disapproval—it seems to be catching—I'd like to pass on to the more pertinent field of criticism where I belong. Here again I find Mr. Halley lacking in the special graces that are required for this sort of work and which he seemed to possess so fully at the time of the Kefauver hearings. He's pressing too hard, he's putting too much emphasis on the uncouthness of corruption; and he's openly reading where he should be at least pretending that these sermons are the product of his own quick mind. To be fair, it should be added that it's just possible he needs a new script.

"Crime Syndicated" is actually a dramatic show which appears to have a lot of its material out of the Kefauver hearings. After Mr. Halley gets out of the way and the dramatic portion opens, you'll find it's a very honest show, full of authentic crime stuff —and right now there's an awful lot of harrowing reality to draw upon—and it is excellently produced, directed and acted. While borrowing from and exploiting the popular crime field, C.B.S. could still have a pretty good case in labeling this show as educational.

* * *

TELEVISION SEEMS intent on teaching all of us how the rackets really operate and this is just one more milestone in our education. Being a man of skeptical mind, I'd like to inquire plaintively whether all this exposure is doing any good, whether the vast crime syndicate which Mr. Halley and his associates are publicing here is being in any way annoyed by the gendarmes? Or is this just a darned good show, which sells Schick razors and entertains the customers without in any way disturbing the equilibrium of the criminals whose careers offer such excellent story material?

Prompt Watchman Prevents Nevada Crossing Accident

Special to The Star

NEVADA — The quick thinking and prompt action of Gerald Probst of Nevada, a railroad crossing watchman, saved the car of a Bucyrus couple from being destroyed and possibly the lives of a train crew.

The car was crossing the tracks on Main street in Nevada when the driver became confused in the darkness and turned down the tracks thinking it was a road. The car became stuck.

Probst warned the couple that a fast train was expected and then ran up the tracks to meet the oncoming train which stopped with only feet to spare before hitting the car. Passers-by helped the couple push their car back on the road and the train went on.

The names of the Bucyrus couple was not learned. The incident occurred Thursday at 8 30 p.m.

Bucyrus Girl on Top Egg Judging Team

Joyce Johnson of Bucyrus was a member of the egg judging team which was awarded first prize at the Northeast Poultry Producers' Council expoistion Oct. 2 and 3, the Ohio State Universtiy extension service reported today.

The team judged market eggs on the basis of shell characteristics and egg size to determine external quality. They candled eggs to judge internal quality.

Miss Johnson's partner was Gordon Weinstock of Lisbon.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

My father lifted his eyebrows markedly at that protest of mine about the evening gowns, and I realized that it was banal and futile.

"You forget," he said, "that Bess Conway is an FBI operative, and as such can pull wires other people cannot. Rest assured that alterations on your gowns will be speeded so that you will receive them in the quickest possible time."

"I am sorry," I said, abashed. "I should have known that without having to be told."

He leaned forward, caught my hands, and drew me over to his chair in a tender embrace.

"It is I who should be sorry," he said. "Please forgive my abruptness. And now, the matter of the gowns, and of Mildred's staying over being settled, let us go on to other details. I am not asking you to write anything down. I am depending upon your marvelous memory."

He put me back into my chair and resumed his own. I managed to get my voice into running order and answered him.

'I shall try not to disappoint you, Father," I said, a bit huskily.

"You never have yet," he returned, with something heady in his voice and eyes; then went on with his instructions.

"Bess will take you to a jewelry shop she knows where they have marvelous imitations of real gems. I wish you to select something quite elaborate to go with your gown. The girls, of course will wish simpler jewels, but looking like the real thing. Just follow Bess's guidance in this. She has marvelous taste, and knows just what is required in roles such as you will play at this party.

"Now as to flowers for your table, and for your wearing," he went on, "I must lean upon your taste and judgment in that, my daughter. I would suggest that the flowers form the setting for your gowns, and that they should be exquisite. The selection, of course, must be yours. But I must insist upon rare orchid coursages for all three of you."

I had difficulty in getting my breath by this time, but I managed to keep my face and eyes composed as my father began the next chapter of his instructions.

"As for the dinner, that I must leave entirely to you," he said. "As the 'heel' undoubtedly will patronize a place which has black market contacts, and will order the thickest and most expensive of steaks, I would make only this suggestion. Make your dinner just as expensive as the one he will give, but give a great deal of thought to it, and have exotic and foreign dishes which will arouse his envy when he notices them.

"Lastly," he finished, "you and Richard will have to stage manage this affair as if it were a notable theatrical opening. Bess Conway must be the star performer, and the rest of you must play up to her and give her every opportunity of getting the center of the stage. I want her to steal all your scenes, and, without appearing to do, attract the attention, and the approval—or disapproval—of the other diners."

He stopped, and searched my face with his keen eyes.

"Tell me," he said, "what is your reaction to all of this? Do you approve my ideas enough to be enthusiastic in carrying them out?"

Vet Vocational Program To Be Discontinued

VA Unable To Pay Its Share, School Board Learns

School traffic and the veterans vocational training program were matters of business coming before the Marion Board of Education in its monthly meeting last night at the School Administration building. Completing the session was further discussion on the disposition of the school property on the Central Junior High School site on West Center street.

It was decided to discontinue the veterans program at this time, due to the inability of the Veterans Administration to provide for its share of the cost of conducting the program. The program has been a part of the school system for the last two years.

Police Captain Clyde Hardin of the local police department, discussed with the board the use of a portable sign for school traffic. Fifty of the signs would be needed to adequately care for the additional school protection, Mr. Hardin stated. The signs are mounted so as to be wheeled into the streets and are equipped with blinkers designed to slow down traffic at time when schools are dismissed. The board expressed interest in cooperating with the department in the use of the signs. No funds are available in the school budget for the purchase of the signs, however.

Disposition of the Central Junior High School property has been under discussion by the board for some time. Last night's discussion brought out the fact that several persons are interested in its purchase. No action was taken and the matter will be further discussed.

Other business included the rental of the Palace Theater for assemblies of Harding High School students during the school term.

HARRIMAN GETTING JOB

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—(AP)—President Truman is expected to name ambassador W. Averell Harriman as director of the new $7,483,400,000 foreign military and economic aid program. Legislation setting up a new mutual security agency was sent to the White House yesterday for the President's signature. Informed officials say Harriman is expected to be both administrator of this agency and coordinator of the aid program.

Ships Idled as Radio Operators Walk Out

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—(AP)—A walk-out of radio operators today is believed to have tied up at least two dozen ships in American ports, and the "paralysis is spreading," a union spokesman said.

An official of the C.I.O. American Radio Association said ships were believed strike-bound at ports on the East, West and Gulf coasts.

He said radio operators were refusing to sign on their ships, in an effort to force action by the federal wage stabilization board on a new wage agreement.

Recess Jury In Home Inquiry

Crawford Grand Jury Recesses Until Oct. 26

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 9—Crawford County's grand jury, which has been inquiring into charges of mistreatment of inmates and mismanagement at the county home, was recessed late yesterday until Oct. 26.

The office of Prosecutor Leo J. Scanlon said the recess was arranged to permit correlation and transcription of testimony of various witnesses and to permit further investigation into the administration of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dinkel, superintendent and matron at the home for the past 11 years, until their dismissals Aug. 30.

The jury began its session Oct. 1 and recessed last Wednesday until yesterday morning.

Jurors have visited the home and heard testimony from several inmates, court attaches reported.

The Dinkels were dismissed by county commissioners who charged them with 29 counts of inmate mistreatment and home mismanagement. They have denied the charges and appealed their ousters of the state civil service commission, which will hold a hearing here on the case, Nov. 15.

An inquest, conducted by Coroner O. R. Kackley, Galion physician, cleared home personnel of responsibility for the death of John W. Johnston, 86, who died at the home, Aug. 14. Johnston's son, Otis, of Galion, requested the inquest because of lacerations on the face and head of his father. However, the coroner's report disclosed there was evidence of inmate mistreatment.

Warns Russia Can Launch Atomic Attack

AEC Member Says Reds Could Strike 20-30 American Cities

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—(AP)—A member of the congressional atomic Energy Committee declared today Russian can launch "an atomic attack at 20 or 30 American cities." A senator had put the number as high as 50.

Rept. Jackson (D-Wash), a member of the atomic energy group, said however the United States is now capable of producing tactical atomic weapons — that is, weapons for use on the battlefield—which could halt the Red army "in its tracks."

Pleading for all-out production of atomic weapons, Jackson said there is "virtually no limit on the number of atomic weapons we can produce" if funds are made available.

"The time will come," Jackson said in a speech prepared for House delivery, "When we can make these weapons in dozens of varieties and in thousands and tens of thousands."

Plea for Step-up

His speech, in its assessment of American atomic potential, the importance and availability of tactical atomic weapons, and the plea for a big, immediate step-up in spending for atomic defense, closely parallelled a Sept. 18 Senate speech by Senator McMahon (D-Conn), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

In a Senate speech last night—an unsuccessful plea for more civil defense funds — Senator Moody (D-Mich) said "I am informed" Russia is capable now of delivering 50 atomic bombs in a single raid, inflicting 6,000,000 casualties, half of them fatal.

Parents' Night Observed At Epworth Church

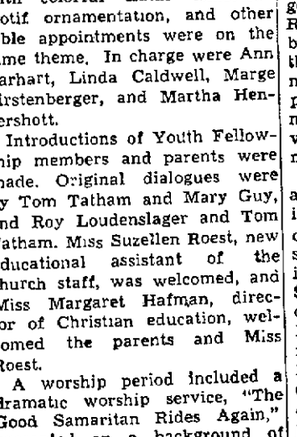
As an event to close observance of Christian Education Week, young people of Epworth Methodist Church held Parents Night Sunday at 6 o'clock, with a luncheon and program. Dan Keggan presided. Singing was led by June Fox, accompanied by Nancy Indoe, and Susie Simmons presided for a fellowship hour.

For the lunch, special decorations were original table mats which were crossword puzzles with colorful Latin American motif ornamentation, and other table appointments were on the same theme. In charge were Ann Carhart, Linda Caldwell, Marge Firstenberger, and Martha Hendershott.

Introductions of Youth Fellowship members and parents were made. Original dialogues were by Tom Tatham and Mary Guy, and Roy Loudenslager and Tom Tatham. Miss Suzellen Roest, new educational assistant of the church staff, was welcomed, and Miss Margaret Hafman, director of Christian education, welcomed the parents and Miss Roest.

A worship period included a dramatic worship service, "The Good Samaritan Rides Again," presented on a background of the new stage setting, with special lighting and costumes. Opening prayer was by Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor. George Moser read Scripture, and Stanley Lawrence offered prayer. Shirley Fetter presented "What Vocation Do You Wish to Follow?" Taking part in the drama were Betty Plantz, Pauline VanGorden, June Fox, Frances Tatham, and Nancy Indoe, reading.

Saturday night, the young people went on a hayride at the Forest Loudenslager farm, with Roy Loudenslager as host.



DEPORTATION ASKED. Deportation for Serge Rubenstein, the immigrant who served 18 months of draft dodging conviction after getting rich on the stock market, is demanded by the government. Rubenstein is shown at an immigration hearing in Los Angeles, where he said, "I believe I am stateless." Deportation grounds are "moral turpitude." Rubenstein, whose father was a financial adviser to the czar of Russia, came to the U. S. from Portugal in 1939.

BRITISH CAMPAIGN GROWS HOTTER. With the British election less than three weeks off, party leaders are intensifying their drives to come out on top. Conservative chief Winston Churchill (top) gives his famous "V" for victory salute as he heads for a speech in Liverpool. At bottom, Prime Minister Clement Atlee addresses a Labor Party conference at Scarborough while Cabinet members Emmanuel Shinwell and Herbert Morrison listen.

from these contracts could be used to cover the cost of the insurance.

He pointed out that the townships were growing and that other plants might be built within their limits. Should this happen, he said, all probably would want fire protection which the city would be unable to give.

The committee will continue its work on the plan for fleet insurance coverage.

OK Wire Recorder

Council passed by a unanimous vote an ordinance approving the purchase of a wire recorder for use of the Marion Police Department.

The recorder will be purchased by the safety-service director at a cost not to exceed $200. The money was appropriated from the general fund. Service Director Ralph Forrest told council members the recorder was needed by the department in taking statements from prisoners and suspected criminals. He said the need was pointed out by the investigation of the James Keys murder.

Unanimous approval was given an ordinance changing the maturity dates of the bonds issued to cover the cost of the North State street sewer project. The maturity date of the bonds, totalling $42,500, was set at the first day of April in the years 1953 to 1957. Last night's ordinance merely changed that date to Oct. 1, in the years 1953 to 1957. City Auditor Elmer Shaw pointed out the maturity date of the bonds was premature.

Approve Fire Alarm

A resolution receiving a unanimous approval calls for the installation of a fire alarm box at the Fairfield Engineering Co. on Barnhart street. The service department was authorized to install the alarm box on or near the company premises.

Assessment rates for the Garfield street sewer will be revised by the city engineer in the near future. Council members voted unanimously on a resolution calling for the revised rates and a new estimate on the cost of the project. The resolution says bids received on the project exceeded the engineer's estimate of $1,838 by a substantial amount. The engineer will revise his estimated cost and readvertise for bids. The new estimate was placed at $2,250 by T. S. Cathers, city engineer. Of this amount, $1,960 would be paid by property owners while the city's share would be $290.

Police Seminar

A final piece of legislation last night authorizes a member of the Marion Police Department to attend a police seminar at Northwestern University next week in connection with traffic problems.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson was authorized to appoint one member of the department to attend the school. A total of $150 was granted by council to cover the officer's expenses. This amount will be appropriated from the general fund upon receipt of proper vouchers from the officer. Last year, two representatives of the local police force attended the annual seminar. They were Captain Clyde Hardin and Police Prosecutor George Piacentino. The resolution was passed by a 6-2 vote. Voting no were Second Ward Councilman James Jenkins and Councilman-at-large Thomas Clark.

Another step was taken in setting up a traffic control program in Marion with the acceptance of recommendations from City Solicitor John Watters. Mr. Watters suggested complete reports be gathered from the Marion Traffic Commission and council's traffic committee and be combined. Mr. Forrest said reports of traffic control steps taken by the Marion Police Department and the results were available since 1945. These will also be studied. The study will probably result in main thoroughfares in the city being designated as such by an ordinance. The ordinance would set up a definite pattern for local traffic, Mr. Forrest said.

Ask Sewer Line

Council received a letter from C. L. Baxter, local manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co, in which the company asked permission to construct a sewer line from West Center street north on Leader to the building being constructed just south of the Leader street overhead pass by the firm. Mr. Baxter asked Council to take speedy action on the request to allow the company to proceed with the work before cold weather arrives.

Mr. Cathers told council the sewer could be constructed but that the north half of Center street as well as the sidewalk would have to be torn up during the job. He said the company would return the street and sidewalk to its former condition.

Council President William G. Slack turned the letter over to the sanitary and sewer committee for final study. The committee will meet with Mr. Baxter in the near future.

A petition received from residents from Wilson avenue calling for the vacation of an alley was referred to the street and alley committee. Frank Gegenheimer, local attorney, appeared in behalf of the petitioners and explained the alley had never been used as such since the street was laid out.

Councilman James Jenkins, second ward, asked council to take action on a water meter dispute from his ward. A meter at 380 Thompson street has caused a minor dispute between the Marion Water Co. and residents of that area.

Mr. Jenkins said the meter, an outdoor underground type, was often flooded and company had cut off the water at one time. Council, however, took no action on the matter.

Councilman Tom Clark, chairman of the council airport committee, praised the work of the new administration at Municipal Airport. He said "good progress" was being made by the new manager, Charles C. Reifsnyder Jr. Flyers are learning of the field and business is picking up, he told council. The grading and seeding work has been started and the entire area has been cleaned up.

Councilman-at-large Newton D. Cunningham started a discussion which may result in a new and stiffer ordinance covering street excavations. Mr. Cunningham suggested firms excavating in city streets be required to refill the excavations with the original brick or paving materials. Mayor Robinson urged similar legislation and President Slack agreed. He suggested the excavators be required to tamp the dirt back in its original place along with the top materials.

Taft Confident Of Winning In Wisconsin

May Go Into That State To Seek G.O.P. President Nomination

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said last night he thought he could win the Wisconsin presidential primary next April. He was invited to enter the race by 13 Wisconsin Republican leaders last week.

He made the statement at a press conference before addressing a dinner meeting of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's Organizations.

The Ohio Republican executive and central committee is expected today to ask Taft to head the Ohio delegation to the national Republican convention in 1952 as Ohio's favorite son.

Taft told reporters if he decides to seek the G O P. nomination he will "go into Wisconsin."

He added:

"I don't think I will have any trouble winning."

May Change Mind

Taft said two things may change his mind about waiting before announcing his intentions. They are the invitation expected from the Ohio Republican committee, and the invitation from 13 Wisconsin Republicans to enter the primary there.

He said, however, the decision will not be made "next week."

A nation-wide survey is being made by David Ingalls of Cleveland, Taft's cousin and advisor, and Ber Tate of Cincinnati, his campaign treasurer in Ohio last year. They will report to him today or tomorrow in Washington. Taft said his decision whether to run will be based on the report.

Taft said he also had received an invitation to go into the Utah primaries.

Laborites Feeling Lash of Churchill Campaign Oratory

LONDON, Oct. 9—(UP)—Winston Churchill planned to rip into the Labor government anew tonight for allegedly permitting Britain to drift into a crisis with Egypt.

The Conservative party leader, campaigning for the Oct. 25 general election, said last night that Egypt's abrogation of its 1936 treaty with Britain was a "graver blow than Abadan (Iran)."

He also accused the Labor government of falling "flat on its face" like "a booby and a coward" in letting Iran expel British oil interests at Abadan.

Conservative party headquarters said Churchill would deal in detail with the Anglo-Egyptian crisis in two speeches scheduled for tonight.

The Tory press kept the ball rolling on the theme, "Who lost the Empire?"

"Our fame and glory are crumbling away," said the Daily Mail. "The truth is that the government are muddling away the British heritage and they are not men enough to admit it."

QUIZ HENRY WALLACE

WASHINGTON, Oct 9—(AP)—Former vice president Henry A. Wallace was questioned behind closed doors today by the Senate internal security subcommittee about his 1944 mission to China. Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) told reporters that Wallace was subpenaed to appear at the hearing and would testify at an open session later. As Wallace went into the hearing room, he told news reporters he had prepared a statement that would be released to them later.

Manslaughter Charge Filed In Marysville Crash

MARYSVILLE — Manslaughter charges have been filed against Charles E. Jenkins, 24, Gallipolis, as the result of the fatal accident that claimed the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Myrie Waideleck and their two-year-old son, Gary, of near Wauseon, north of Marysville on Route 31 last Sept. 7.

Highway Patrolmen F. C. McCleery charges Jenkins, driver of an auto transport carrying four new cars, was at fault when the transport and a truck driven by Waideleck and loaded with fertilizer crashed. Jenkins pleaded not guilty before Justice W. H. Snodgrass and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond.

FLIGHT TO HAPPINESS. In Francisco for the premiere of her first American film, following a fight from Los Angeles, is French actress Leslie Caron and her new husband, George C. Hormel. The pretty actress met Hormel, a member of the meat-packing family, at a party three months ago. The meeting resulted in marriage in Las Vegas, Nev.

Sudan Said Egypt's Price for Defense Aid

LONDON, Oct. 9—(AP)—Diplomatic officials said today they expect Egypt will join a new Middle East defense system only if she gets the Sudan.

They based their forecast on the Cairo government's move yesterday to void the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian defense pact.

Egyptian leaders had been notified they would receive by Wednesday details of the defense plan sponsored by the Atlantic Allies.

The new arrangement provides for cancellation at least of the military clauses of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty. It would leave only the future status of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan to be settled between London and Cairo.

Lions Hear Fair Official

Tells of Work With Concessionaires

"Ten to One You're a Sucker, and I Can Prove It" was the topic for a talk by B. P. Sandles, superintendent of the Ohio State Junior Fair and construction engineer with the Clark County Agricultural Society, at a Lions Club luncheon meeting yesterday in Hotel Harding.

Mr. Sandles told the group about his years of experience in the carnival business and of his dealings with concessionaires. He mentioned many ways used by concessionaires to trick customers and explained some of the games which they use, pointing out that every concessionaire on a county fairground in Ohio is licensed. The speaker was introduced by Robert Cripps, program chairman for the day.

Max Sechrist announced that next week's speaker will be Wellington J. Griffith, a retired industrialist, whose topic will be "Subversive Activities."

President Richard Probst urged the club's support of Fire Prevention Week, which is this week, and Carl Meddles, chairman of the attendance committee, reported that the attendance team captained by Bob Bartlett is leading in the contest.

Guess at the meeting were Gene Poling, J. H. Walker, and Dr. William B. Leffler, all of Marion, and George Carl of Jeromeville.

Security "Gag" Is Defended

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer today defended President Truman's recent order on security information and said some protests against it are "emotional outbursts about censorship."

Sawyer said the United States is waging "a hot war and a very real war" and too much military information is getting out. "Our object," he said, should be not only the utmost freedom consistent with safety but the utmost safety consistent with freedom."

The President's order, issued Sept. 25, extended to civilian agencies the same policies on release of security information that have been in effect in the Defense and State Departments.

Officials of all agencies of the government were given power to decide whether information should be withheld from the public on the ground its release would endanger the national security. No other standards for deciding what information should be withheld were laid down.

None Hurt In Four Accidents

Three minor traffic accidents were reported by police today. No injuries resulted.

A pick-up truck driven by Clark Homer Elonze, 32, of near Marion and a car driven by Glenn T. Smith, 19, of 229½ North Main street collided on East Center street at 4:27 p.m. yesterday.

Minor damages resulted when cars driven by Samuel H. Oehler, 31, of near Kenton and Robert Ray Rohan, 31, of Kenton collided at Main and Center streets at 3:25 p.m. yesterday.

At 4:51 p.m. yesterday cars driven by Frank K. Tuttle, 67, of Toledo and Harry H. Harvey, 26, of near Prospect collided on South Main street with minor damage resulting.

Court To Rule On Rights Of Alien Reds

First Decisions Of New Term Handed Down in Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—(AP)—The Supreme Court has agreed to decide two important questions affecting the rights of Alien Communists in this country.

The tribunal, in its first major business day of the new term, yesterday announced it will consider:

1. Whether aliens may be deported because they once were members of the Communist party.

2. Whether aliens may be held without bail pending deportation proceedings if the attorney general finds they have been active in Communist party affairs.

The court agreed to decide those issues after turning down a plea by the 11 top Communist leaders who were convicted of conspiring to teach violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Other Actions

In other actions yesterday, the high court:

1. Agreed to review the conviction of a white resident of Chicago on a charge of distributing literature critical of the Negro race.

2. Refused to rule on appeals filed on behalf of some 4,000 persons of Japanese ancestry residing on the West Coast.

Red Decision To Break Off Talks Costly

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 9—(AP)—Only the future will tell whether the Communists gained by breaking off the Korean peace talks Aug. 23.

They already have paid a high price—

1—Nearly 80,000 Chinese and North Korean soldiers killed, wounded or captured, says the 8th Army.

2—Up to 250 square miles of North Korea, representing Allied gains of nearly 15 miles in the east and four miles in the west.

3—Several—perhaps eight to 10—Communist divisions have been cut to pieces and knocked out of the war for months. Vast amounts of war material have been destroyed.

The battles of the last 48 days were not decisive. The Eighth Army commander, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, and his most optimistic staff officers would not claim they were.

The Red setback does not mean that the Communists cannot launch another major offensive—although it certainly reduces the chances of one starting, or of getting very far.

It does mean that the Communists have a lot less than they had on Aug. 23—perhaps enough less to bring them back to the armistice table.

The last 48 days have cost the Allies something, too. The figures still are a military secret. They have not been insignificant—but are only a small fraction of Communist losses.

Embarrassed Canadians Misplace Welcome Mat

MONTREAL, Oct. 9—(AP)—Lost—one red carpet.

Officials at Dorval airport here had red faces yesterday when they were unable to roll out the red carpet for the arrival of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

What happened to the carpet is still a mystery. It was there on Sunday when the welcome ceremonies were rehearsed, but when the officials were ready to lay it down yesterday, nobody could remember where the carpet had been stored.

SHORT ON PARTS

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 9—(AP)—The U. S. Air Force has sharply curtailed use of its F-84 Thunderjet fighter planes in Europe because of a critical shortage of spare parts, a spokesman disclosed today. Maj. Lawrence M. Watson, 12th Air Force plans officer, said that "because such parts are needed in Korea, we have had to reduce all our F-84 flights."

Effort Started To Avoid Oil Fight in U.N.

Delegates Strive To Reopen Talks With British, Iranians

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 9—(AP) — Delegates from the United States and other U.N. members worked behind the scenes today in a concerted effort to start Britain and Iran talking together once more about their oil dispute.

They sought to avert an open fight before the Security Council over Iran's nationalization of the vast British-owned oil industry in southern Iran. The council is scheduled to hear the aged, ailing Iranian premier, Mohammed Mossadegh, open his country's case on Thursday.

A key figure in the conversations seeking further negotiations was Ernest A. Gross, deputy U. S. representative on the Security Council. He was reported to have talked already with Mossadegh and with Sir Gladwyn Jebb, British delegate to the U.N.

Mossadegh was installed in a suite of rooms on the 16th floor of the New York hospital, the same hospital in which his ruler, Shah Mohammed Rezar Pahlevi, underwent an examination during his visit to the United States in 1949.

Since Mossadegh arrived yesterday by plane, these developments have occurred:

1. Nasrollah Entezam, Iranian ambassador to the U. S. and president of the General Assembly, denied flatly Iran may accept Soviet aid in the dispute.

2. Jebb and others worked on a resolution said to state once more that Britain attaches great importance to the opinion of the International Court of Justice. Britain has asked the Security Council to call upon Iran to follow a court recommendation for the oil operations to continue in Iran pending a settlement by the two parties.

3. It was understood the United States was not favorable to any resolution that would make it appear to have thrown its weigh toward either party. The U. S reportedly wants to take a middle course in the dispute, and to get the two parties together for talks.

He will appear personally before the Security council of the United Nations when it takes up his country's oil dispute with Great Britain. At left is Iranian Ambassador Nazrollah Entezam. Heidt Show Victor Here Wins Again

Lexington Youth On Coast-to-Coast Radio Program

The Lexington, O., youth, Roger Balph, who in January, this year, was winner of Horace Heidt auditions held in Marion, won first prize Sunday night when he appeared as a contestant on Heidt's coast-to-coast radio program. It originated in Springfield, Mo. Roger plays the clarinet

By winning first prize on his first performance, he will compete again next Sunday night when the show will originate from Amarillo, Texas

Currently, the program is in the final quarter of the year. The quarter will end on Dec. 9 and the finals are scheduled to be held Dec. 16 in Los Angeles, Calif. If Roger Balph should win each Sunday during the final quarter, he would be eligible for the finals.

To win Sunday night, he defeated Dick Kerr, an Air Force man from New York State, who had been the winner for two consecutive weeks with his talent as an impersonator of songs and three others, a girl accordionist, a girl vocalist and a boy vocalist, all from the Missouri area.

Since winning the auditions in Marion, Roger has been to the west coast with the Horace Heidt group, and also during the week of the Ohio State Fair played the clarinet with the band and also competed one night playing the saxophone. He recently had a second audition in Mansfield after which he was chosen to be a contestant on the Sunday night program.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Balph of Lexington, Roger is a Lexington High School senior.

The Horace Heidt program is heard on Sunday nights here at 8.30 p m. over the Columbia network.

Dewind said Senator Moody (D-Mich) had turned over to the committee all information on which the Michigan senator last week based allegations against the Detroit revenue office.

Moody said in the Senate there was evidence indicating improprieties by revenue agents there and in the internal revenue intelligence unit, the fraud enforcement division.

The committee counsel did not disclose what additional offices were under scrutiny, but said a joint investigation was under way by the committee and Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap.

Yom Kippur Observance Set Tonight

Services in observance of Yom Kippur will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Congregation of Israel Temple on East Center street. Allan Tarshish of Columbus will conduct the services.

Traditional music will be under the direction of Mrs. Griselda Davis Dombaugh, assisted by Harold Bradt and Mrs. George Griffiths, soloists. Services Wednesday will be from 10 a.m. until sundown.

Yom Kippur, which is Wednesday, is the 10th day of the Jewish month Tishri. On this day Jewish people throughout the world fast and worship.

This is the Day of Atonement on which Jewish people try to approximate a complete spiritual life. By dispensing with the material needs of food and drink, they hope to acquire an exalted mood which will continue to influence their thoughts and actions throughout the year.

Services on the eve of Atonement will be opened with the traditional chanting of the famous Kol Nidre prayer. Sacred scrolls will be exhibited in accordance with the time honored tradition.

A rocking bed and an all-purpose exercise table are two of the pieces of apparatus used in Walter Reed Army Hospital's physical rehabilitation program. The bed, operated electrically, works on the principle of a rocking chair, lowering the patient's head and feet alternately in a rhythmic motion, and forcing air in and out of the patient's lungs. It is also used to improve blood circulation in patients suffering with polio, and blood vessel or respiratory disorders.

Army Sifts Men For Duty In Alaska

Requires Special Characteristics In Fighting Men

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UP)—A long-range program has been started by the military to determine the type of soldier and airman best suited mentally to fight a war in Alaska.

Maj. Anthony Debons, psychological offices in the Arctic aeromedical laboratory, Ladd Air Force base, said his department is surveying scores of troops in the Alaska command. When it is learned what sort of person is best suited to the diverse environments offered in Alaska. An attempt will be made to garrison territorial military posts with these ideal "psychological packages."

"We've still got a long way to go in our studies," Debons said. "However, we know that one type of person who would not get along well in Alaska is the person who is 'accident-prone.' That is, one who is careless, one who would forget his gloves when he went outside and end up with a bad case of frostbite.

Would Be Detriment

"Naturally, a man like that would be a detriment instead of an asset if he went into combat up here."

Although the isolation of many military posts in Alaska results in deterioration of social ties to some men, others seemingly thrive on it.

"A man may not mind too much being sent to Alaska if, say, his wife wants a divorce or he faces serious financial worries," Debons said.

"But for the most part, men come to Alaska with preconceived notions. Their attitude is superficial and they have decided before they even get here that they aren't going to like it."

Troops Classified

Debons divides Alaska-based troops who don't adjust well to their surroundings by their geographical origins. Northerners would be more inclined to be frustrated and southerners would be depressed, he said.

"Northerners have a strong cultural background," he explained "They think in terms of 'white collar' living such as college educations and $7,000-a-year jobs.

"Southerners have a slightly lower educational level. They don't have the same cultural 'props' as those from the north."

Debons pointed out that GI's stationed in Alaska may be in extremely varied environments An airman based at Elmendorf base, a few miles from Anchorage, a city of 30,000 population, would be more likely to find enough to stimulate him than the pfc. stationed on the barren Aleutian Chain.

Troops stationed in Alaska are here for two-year tours of duty, except those on the Chain, Marks air base and other isolated spots, where the tour is one year.

Juke Box Men Face Price Dilemma

SPOKANE — (UP) — Juke box operators in Spokane want to raise the price of a tune to a dime but they seem unable to get together on it.

Faced with rising costs, competitors fear if one raises the price, others will try to "bump" him out out of a spot by offering the nickel rate.

All agree that the cost must come up, with needles now costing 35 cents where they went from a dime, and records up from 18 cents to 91 cents.

They are afraid to start the ball rolling.

Plankton are multiple billions of tiny plants and animals floating, swimming and pulsing through the seas — veritable pastures upon which all animal life in the oceans depends eventually for sustenance While some species of plankton are easily seen by the naked eye, many others are microscopic in size. A bathtub of Gulf Stream water might well hold a million planktonic creatures—with plenty of room for more.

Detroit, Motor City No One-Horse Town

DETROIT — (UP) — Detroit, famed as the Motor City and headquarters of the auto industry, is no one-product city.

It also is the source of one-third of the nation's output of salt and soda, headquarters of the world's largest directory publisher and the biggest manufacturer of emblem and fraternity jewelry.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Carroll E. Burke

Carroll E. Burke, native of Marion and resident of Cleveland many years, died suddenly Sunday at his home there.

His parents were Michael J. and Ann Burke. He left Marion 35 years ago. A brother and a sister preceded him in death. In Cleveland, he was a member of the board of elections.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary Bieber Burke, and a daughter, Mrs. Bernard Sens.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 9 a.m. in St. Marian's Catholic Church in Cleveland.

Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery in Marion.

Friends may call at the Monreal Co. Funeral Home at St. Clair avenue and East 110th street in Cleveland.

Miss Florence Rynn of Bellevue avenue left this morning for Cleveland to attend the services.

Samuel A. Schlup

UPPER SANDUSKY—Funeral services for Samuel A. Schlup, 59, well known Mifflin Township farmer, who died Sunday afternoon will be held Wednesday. Services will be conducted from his home at 2 p.m. and at 2:30 p.m. from Wesley Chapel Methodist Church in Mifflin Township. The pastor Eddon L. Riggs, will officiate. Burial will be made in Old Mission Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Schlup home until time for the services. Bringman & Co. funeral directors are in charge of arrangements. Mr. Schlup had been ill the past ten months. His condition had been serious the past three weeks.

He was born June 3, 1892, on the farm on which he spent all his life, the son of Frederick and Margaret Karg Schlup. November 30, 1911, he was united in marriage with Muriel E. Smith, who survives.

Surviving also are three daughters, Wanda, wife of Wayne Ulich of near Upper Sandusky; Alice, wife of Dale Fox of near Galion, and Florence, wife of Paul Hoover of near Upper Sandusky. Three sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Fink of Forest; Mrs. Albert Schoenberger of Upper Sandusky, and Mrs. Hurless Staggs of Detroit, Mich., also survive.

Mr. Schlup had followed the occupation of farming. He was a member of Wesley Chapel Methodist Church.

George Wolfrum

UPPER SANDUSKY — Funeral services for George Wolfrum, 78, of Upper Sanusky will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. from the Bringman & Co. Funeral Home in this city in charge of Rev. J. H. Weissrock. Burial will be made in Spring Grove Cemetery, Carey. Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

Mr. Wolfrum died Monday at 5:20 a.m. in Wyandot Memorial Hospital after a week's illness from a complication of diseases.

Born Feb. 25, 1873, in Upper Sandusky, he was the son of the late George and Barbara Miller Wolfrum. He married Grace May Woods, June 1, 1898, in Mansfield. She preceded him in death in 1935. Two sons survive, George Wolfrum Jr. of Sycamore and Charles Wolfrum of Pittsburgh, Pa. He also leaves seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. Wolfrum spent his life here and at Carey. He lived for 30 years at Carey where he dealt in prize poultry and was in the barbering business. For some time he served as clerk of Crawford Township. In Upper Sandusky he and Mrs. Wolfrum operated the A. & P. store. He belonged to the former Modern Woodmen of America Lodge of Upper Sandusky.

F. L. Coomer

F. L. Coomer, 81, formerly of Morrow County, died Sunday afternoon in Lodi Hospital. He had been ill three months. He was a farmer of Spencer Township many years, going there from Morrow County. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge at Ashley and a member of Marion Commandery No. 36, Knights Templar.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Eva Coomer, and children, Mrs. Glenn Woods of Mt. Vernon, Mrs. Claude Whipple of Wellington, Dovel C. Coomer at home, Lowell of Spencer Township, and James of Fremont, six grandchildren, four great-grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. John Snyder of Cardington, and a brother, A. S. Coomer of Kansas City, Mo.

Services Held For Retired Galion Fire Chief

GALION, Oct. 9—Funeral services for Harry F. Kile, 73, retired chief of the Galion Fire Department, were held yesterday at 1:30 p.m., in the Snyder Funeral Home. Rev. C. C. Wannemacher, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church where Mr. Kile was a member, officiated. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

Retired since April 16, 1948, he was chief of the fire department 30 years and a member of the department 40 years. He had been in faling health the last three years.

A native of the Windfall community, Crawford County, northwest of Galion, he was born Jan. 9, 1878, a son of Fred and Caroline Freese Kile. He was married to Lillian C. Herr who died in 1918, and later to Louise O. A. Tracht who died Sept. 10, 1950.

Surviving are two daughters by the first marriage, Miss Wilma R. Kile and Mrs. Adolph Weber, both of Lakewood. He was preceded in death by a sister, Mrs. William G. Nungesser.

He first became a minuteman in the fire department April 16, 1908. He was made a regular member of the department on April 16, 1918, and June 1, the same year, he was named captain. Later in the same year he was appointed chief of the department. Before his service with the fire department, he was a locomotive fireman for both Big Four and Erie Railroads. On his 70th birthday he was honored with a life membership in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. He had served as deputy sheriff of Crawford County in 1906.

SEES NEW ERA IN ATOM WEAPONS. After addressing a University of Southern California Founders' Day gathering in Los Angeles, Gordon Dean (right), Chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, receives an honorory Doctor of Laws degree from Fred Fagg Jr., president of the university. Dean disclosed that the United States has begun mass production of tactical atomic weapons that could "cancel out" on the battlefield "any numerical advantage" of an enemy. He said that the country is now capable of waging a new type of atomic warfare, which could crush aggressors "without the risk of destroying large parts of the world in the process."

Play Series Ticket Drive Extended

The campaign to sell season membership subscriptions to the Civic Drama Festival will be extended until Monday, Oct. 15, it was decided Friday at a luncheon meeting of the Marion Exchange Club in Hotel Harding. The extension was granted to allow the members time to contact persons who have ordered tickets but have not yet obtained them.

Lewis Wills, chairman of the campaign, announced that money for tickets has been received from approximately 350 persons. He said that tickets may be purchased for another week from members of the club or at several local business places. They are available for $6.15, (tax included), in the reserved section and for $3.69, (tax included), in the unreserved section.

The series will include three plays presented at the Palace Theater by professional actors from New York. The plays are "Darkness at Noon" Nov. 8, "Voice of the Turtle" Dec. 20 and "Heaven Can Wait" Feb. 28.

Proceeds from the ticket sale will be used for rehabilitation of wards of the Juvenile Court.

Ohio Knights Templar Parade in Columbus

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9 — (AP) — The 109th regular conclave of the Grand Commandery of Ohio's Knights Templar paraded here last night as thousands lined the curbs to watch.

American flags and Knights Templar emblems led the six divisions. Top national and state officers of the Knights Templar were also in the parade. High school bands furnished the music.

A ball at Masonic Temple climaxed the evening.

File $40,000 Damage Suits After Crash

Claim Amount For Injuries Suffered South of Waldo

The Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Highway Inc., have been named defendants in two damage suits totaling $40,000 filed in Marion County Common Pleas Court.

The suits are the results of a traffic accident on Oct. 12, 1949 on Route 47, south of Waldo. Plaintiffs are Edward P. Seigle of Terrace Park, O., who asks $15,000, and Donald Harris of Mt. Vernon who asks $25,000 in damages.

The two men claim they were passengers in an automobile driven by Eldon J. Mardis of Mt. Vernon. The auto was traveling east on Route 47 when it was struck by a truck owned by the C. C. C. Inc. They name James Elbert Harton as driver of the truck.

Both charge the truck driver with negligence in that he failed to drive with due regard to the safety of others on the highway and with not operating the truck properly. They allege the truck bed struck their auto as they were meeting.

Mr. Seigle says he suffered damages in the amount of $15,000. He says his leg was placed in a cast until the following April and that he had to walk with the aid of crutches for more than a year.

Mr. Harris' petition says he was a college sophomore at the time of the accident. He was hospitalized as a result of the crash and was unable to return to his classes. As a result, his education was terminated, he charged.

Attorneys for both plaintiffs are Moloney and Kelly law firm of Marion and W. Thurman Todd of Mt. Vernon.

Honor Eight Area Farmers for Work In Conservation

Eight Ohio farmers from the Delaware conservation district will be honored today for winning top places in the soil conservation awards program for 1950-51, The United Press reported.

The program was sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron. Five winners were members of the Delaware soil conservation district governing body. They were Harvey Cruikshank, chairman, Delaware; Forest L. Bale, secretary, of Galena; Cecil Robinson of Radnor; Herbert B. Eagon of Delaware; Charles J. Chadwick of Ashley.

Three farmers of the district were outstanding cooperators, Frank Peirsol of Ostrander; Willis D. Eagon of Delaware; Morris and Charles Humphries of Radnor.

They will be presented with bronze plaques by W. E. Still of Goodyear at a dinner.

Truckers Fined For Overloads

A father and son driving two overloaded dump trucks were arrested by state highway patrolmen yesterday afternoon at 3:35 on Route 23 as they were hauling loads of shale to a tile factory in Morral. Both pleaded guilty to the charges in Municipal Court this morning.

Clifford H. Schultz, 57, of 778 North Main street was fined $59 and costs for his overload of 3,400 pounds. His son, John E. Schultz, 21, of the same address, was fined $25 and costs for an overload of 1,630 pounds.

Ralph W. Karsh, 35, of Findlay was also arrested for an overload yesterday on Route 23, at 3:50 p. m. His load of fuel oil was 1,030 pounds above the limit. He forfeited bond of $30 when he failed to appear in Municipal Court this morning.

See No Rest For Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—(AP)—Lawmakers took a look at the tally sheet on appropriations bills today and decided Congress would be lucky to get out of town by Nov. 1.

Six of the 13 major bills carrying funds to run the government still must be acted on. At least one of these, carrying money for military and economic aid to foreign countries, promises to stir up controversy.

Senate Democratic leader McFarland of Arizona has fixed Oct. 20 as his latest adjournment target. But other senators said privately today they did not think that was realistic. House Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) said yesterday "maybe" Congress can wind up its work this month.

SANDUSKY LADY LOSES 22 LBS., NO DIETING

"After having a major operation it was difficult for me to keep my weight down—it seemed everything I ate turned to fat," writes Mrs. Paul Novotny, S. Campbell St., R. R. No. 2, Sandusky, Ohio. "Although I had tried many reducing tablets nothing helped until a friend told me about Rennel Concentrate. When I started taking Rennel I weighed 155 lbs. Now I weigh 133 lbs., feel much better, and best of all eat all I want. I now am at my desired weight, thanks to Rennel."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomforts of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasure of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rennel and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results, return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product, insist on genuine Rennel.

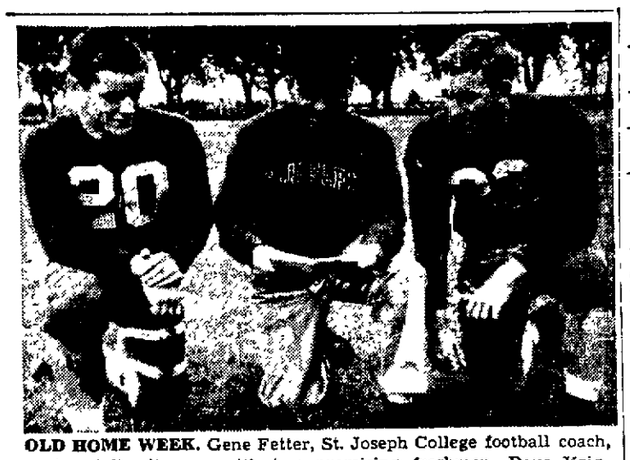
Yanks Come Back To Even Series by Shelling Maglie



OLD HOME WEEK. Gene Fetter, St. Joseph College football coach, center, talks it over with two promising freshmen, Dave Krigbaum, halfback, left and pivot man Bob Shoemaker. Krigbaum and Shoemaker played for St. Mary last season while Fetter once coached there. Both are members of the traveling varsity. The Indiana college takes on Valparaiso Saturday.

DiMaggio Boosts Hopes With Homer

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio's revival aroused New York Yankee hopes today as Lefty Ed Lopat (21-9) faced the Giants' Larry Jansen (23-11) in the fifth World Series game at the Polo Grounds.

All square with two wins each after Allie Reynolds' 6-2 conquest of the Giants' Sal Maglie yesterday, the clubs were ready for a rematch of Friday's duel.

Dimaggia, swinging from a new stance after three hitless games, renewed the pride of the Yanks with his two-run homer and single off Maglie.

For the first time in weeks, the Yanks hit like the club that fought off Cleveland and Boston to win the American League pennant. And they did it against the Giants' best.

Public sympathy rained on the 36-year-old DiMaggio in the first three games of his 10th—and probably last—series. He didn't have a hit in 11 trips.

You noted the difference the first time he faced Maglie. First a curved strike. Then three balls. A vicious foul liner off the upper deck that missed being a homer by four feet. Another foul liner. And three more fouls, before he looked too long at a curved third strike.

350-Foot Homer

After the game and his 350-foot homer with Yogi Berra on base in the fifth, he said he "liked" that first foul liner best of all. It was the first hint that the jolter was back on the beam.

It is difficult to overestimate the emotional lift DiMaggio can give the Yanks. Or vice versa. With "the big fellow" slashing, slumping Berra started to hit the ball on the nose. Yogi hammered two liners at outfielders before he got his lone hit.

Bobby Brown came up with two hits and Hank Bauer broke his hitless slump, even though one was a ball that hit base runner Gil McDougald for an automatic hit and automatic out.

With this solid backing of 12 hits, Reynolds was a different pitcher from the fellow who lost the opening game. The sturdy Indian from Oklahoma had a zinging fast ball and sharp curve that piled up seven strikeouts. Twice he simply blew the ball past a wildly-waving Wes Westrum.

Al Dark, who hit him for a three-run homer in the opener, slammed three successive doubles to left field The first meant a run when Monte Irvin poked a single to left field. But the others meant only men left on base.

Allie had a rocky ninth that prompted Manager Casey Stengel to start Johnny Sain and Bob Kuzava throwing madly in the bullpen. A walk to Hank Thompson, Irvin's ninth hit of the series and Bobby Thomson's single produced a run.

Then Willie Mays rapped into his third double play—tying a record he would like to forget. Reynolds was home free.

The Lopat-Jansen battle in the fifth game shapes up as the best of the series. Although Steady Eddie beat Jansen, 3-1, in the second game, Larry retired 13 men in succession after early inning trouble. And the Yanks' chunky "nothing ball" pitcher gave up only five hits.

Driver's Seat

The winner of today's game will be in the driver's seat. If the Yanks win, Stengel could gamble on his sixth game with Tom Morgan or Johnny Sain and still have Vic Raschi and Reynolds for the seventh. If the Giants win, Leo Durocher can try to get home with Dave Koslo again and save up Jim Hearn and Maglie for the finale.

Maglie worked only five innings yesterday and should be ready if needed for a seventh game. The Barber didn't have his stuff in his first series appearance. He threw 25 pitches in the first inning although the Yanks had only one baserunner.

Gene Woodling, batting fifth in the revised Yank order, opened the second with a blooper double to left.

Mays raced deep for Bobby Brown's long drive that he dropped after making a falling catch. The catch was ruled good because he had possession of the ball. Joe Collins singled home Woodling to tie it up.

Reynolds broke the tie in the fourth with a single after Brown singled and Collins walked. The Yanks might have had more if Allie hadn't been cut down off first base on some peculiar base running.

Berra's single preceded DiMaggio's smash into the upper left field seats in the fifth, Maglie's last inning. Sheldon Jones gave up two unearned runs in the seventh on two singles a walk and an error. Phil Rizzuto singled and Gene Woodling walked. Trying to nip Rizzuto off second, Westrum threw to Eddie Stanky who ran Phil toward third and hit him in the back with a wild throw. Rizzuto scooted home and Woodling took second. McDougald's single to left brought in Woodling.

Pays Dividends

Stengel's batting order switch paid dividends. Bauer, leading off, was on base three times. Woodling, dropped from leadoff to the No. 5 spot where sluggers hit, came through with a double and scored twice.

The outfield may have been a little damp but you never would have known it Despite nearly 2½ inches of rain that postponed Sunday's game, the field dried quickly under a bright sun.

With the biggest player pool in history—$560,562.87 at stake, the going might get a little rugged in the next few games. The winners will slice up $235,436.20 the loser $156,957.46.

The series already is in the million dollar class with total receipts of $1,099,141.92, counting the cash paid by yesterday's crowd of 49,010 fans. That does not include the $1,000,000 plus from TV and radio.

DIMAG HELPS YANKEES TAME GIANTS. Fellow Yankees and part of the 49,010 fans who paid $233,888 to see the New York Yankees defeat the New York Giants 6 to 2 in the fourth game of the World Series at the Polo Grounds welcome Joe DiMaggio (5) to the dugout after he blasts a tremendous home run in the fifth inning with Yogi Berra on base. The Great DiMag had gone hitless in the first three games of the Series.

Matthews In Early Kayo

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9—(AP)—Harry Matthews' stock as a contender for Joey Maxim's light heavyweight boxing title was at a peak today after a sensational first round knockout of San Francisco's' Grant Butcher.

The Seattle bomber floored the heavier Butcher after only two minutes 13 seconds of a scheduled 10-rounder last night. Matthews weighed 176, Butcher 183.

Through the SPORTSCOPE with A. L. McCLAIN

COMES WITH AGE. Front liners in Columbus who think a whole fall and winter can be spoiled by the outcome of a college football game, must be mellowing in their old age.

In the past they have yelled for the scalps of Ohio State football coaches when the teams lost games they had no business winning and accepted an upset victory as a normal course of events.

Now comes the '51 season and Coach Woody Hayes. The Bucks drop a game they should have won from No. 1-ranking Michigan State and what do the citizens say?

Why, they speak glowingly of the visitors' fine team and the terrific fight O.S.U. put up against a better team.

NUTS!

They should be very proud of M.S.C. in East Lansing. Coach Biggie Munn took a fine, but by no means great, squad to Columbus and outsmarted Hayes all the way.

Early in the second quarter the Bucks found that the Spartans could be passed against and Vic Janowicz and Tony Curcillo began throwing strikes.

But in the second half with the Bucks leading, 20-10, they discontinued their passing attack, much to Munn's relief you can bet, and began to run the ball.

HOME FREE. Then with only three men rushing M.S.C. passers, Munn knew he was home free even before the disastrous fumble with five minutes and 22 seconds remaining.

How much time does a passer have when rushed by only three men? Enough time for the Spartans to score their game-winning TD in this manner:

The quarterback takes the ball from center, laterals to his halfback and then runs down field to catch the halfback's pass.

Even the kids in the streets playing touch football know that the old rule of rush the passer is the best defense against the aerial. This was clearly shown in the Ohio State-Southern Methodist game, but the Bucks did not learn their lessons well.

NO HURRY. For two straight weeks, opponent passers have stood back behind the line, taking their time and well-protected from only three rushers. You can bet on Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and the others to do a lot of aerial fireworks when they face the Bucks.

We rooted our heads off for Hayes and his gang, but went away feeling the visitors had stolen a game. And a victory won through superior thinking is always one to relish more than one won through brute strength alone.

REST OF WAY. Ohio State should go on from here undefeated. If they make as many mental errors as last Saturday even the lowest could rise up to the occasion.

Vic Janowicz rates as the greatest all-around player we ever saw and Tony Curcillo an exceptional quarterback. The O.S.U. line on defense is rugged with Linebacker Bob Heid deserving All-American rating. We doubt that M.S.C. has anything to match this array of talent.

The front liners in Columbus are going on reputation.

They have been sold a bill of goods that M.S.C. is the best in the nation, that there is no disgrace to lose to a team of such calibre.

NUTS!

TAPPING AFTER TAPS

TUPELO, Miss.—(UP) — A prisoner in county jail here passes the time entertaining coprisoners, but his act doesn't go over too well. Jailer Arthur Bailey explains, "tap-dances we could do without after midnight."

M.S.C. Still Rates No. 1 Grid Team

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 — (AP) — Michigan State still rates as the No. 1 college football team in the country today but not by any great margin.

The Associated Press' second weekly nationwide poll of the season gave Coach Biggie Munn's Spartans from East Lansing a 10-point edge on California's Golden Bears, with Tennessee's Vols not far back in third place.

The voters apparently thought more of California's 55-14 conquest of Minnesota than Michigan State's come-from-behind 24-20 triumph of Ohio State and Tennessee's 26-0 white wash of Duke.

Ohio State, dropped from seventh to ninth, was the only member of the select group which failed to command at least one vote for the lead-off spot.

Charles, Layne Trade Punches In TV Bout

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9—(AP)—Ezzard Charles, ex-heavyweight champion who wants the crown back, and Rex Layne, who just wants it, ended training today for a 12-round bout tomorrow night at Forbes Field that will do a lot for the winner's prestige if nothing else.

The fight will be televised.

Charles finished up the heavy work yesterday with four fast rounds and his trainers smiled broadly and said:

"The boy's razor sharp."

Layne, a young hopeful from Salt Lake City, traded punches with his sparring partners for two rounds and then told his audience:

"I wish I was climbing through the ropes at Forbes Field right now."

A win would boom Layne's chances for a quick shot at the title. Although win or lose Charles still has a guarantee to meet Walcott first.

BROTHER ACT

NEW YORK (AP)—Martin and Bob Riles of California and Bob and Ross Hume of Michigan are the only brothers to have won NCAA track titles. The Cochran brothers of Mississippi A&M and Indiana came close to duplicating this feat. C. S. Cochran won the 440 in 1922 and 1923. Brother Roy was a close second in the 1941 low hurdles for Indiana.

Walker Leading In Pro Scoring With 30 Points

DETROIT, Oct. 9—(AP)—As a rookie sensation Little Doak Walker of the Detroit Lions almost bettered the National Football League's scoring record last year.

This year as a sophomore for a team that's leading the N.F.L.'s national conference, the former Southern Methodist star is off to a running start.

He scored 17 points in the Lions' 37-10 rout of the New York Yanks last night. That gave him 30 points in just two of the 12 games scheduled for the Lions, only unbeaten team in either conference.

UNIFORM FOR THE COACH

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Logan, former playing-coach for the Tri-City Blackhawks in the National Basketball Association, is now in Korea with the Seventh Division. His ex-teammate, Gene Vance, is in Japan awaiting assignment.

K. D. SPENCER, Hiram, Ohio, says: "Ford Trucks do more work per dollar. They really stand up on the job!"

Poultryman Spencer hauls chickens to market in his Ford F-1, hauls feed on the return trip. He says of his Economy Run expense records: "The Ford Power-Pilot has helped me cut running costs!"

"My broilers and feed travel for only 1½¢ a mile!"

K. D. Spencer's 1950 Ford F-1 Pickup was an Ohio entrant in the nationwide Ford Truck Economy Run . . . in which over 5,500 drivers rolled up 50 million miles!

• Spencer hauls broilers by the hundreds—yet his hauling costs amount to "chicken feed." He says: "My Economy Run cost records for five months show I traveled 4,070 miles, made 436 stops, and had no repairs. My total for gas, oil and maintenance came to a total of $62.36, giving me a running cost of only 1.53 cents a mile!"

Just one important reason for Ford Truck economy is the POWER PILOT—a simpler, fully-proven way of getting the most power from the least gas. You use regular gas, get no-knock performance. You save money every mile!

To Organize Adult Classes

Adults interested in entering classes in woodworking, machine shop, or a veterans' class in auto mechanics may attend a meeting tonight at 7 in the Harding High School Vocational Building. The classes will be planned tonight and the time for their regular meetings will be chosen by those who enroll.

One adult class in woodworking was organized previously and will hold its third session Thursday.

CHURCH NURSERY CLEANED

An all-day meeting of the Lee Street Presbyterian Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society was held Wednesday to clean the church nursery. A new linoleum was purchased. At noon a potluck lunch was served, followed by a short business meeting. Discussion was held on sending boxes of supplies to Korea, Puerto Rico, and to home missions in Kentucky. Mystery prizes went to Mrs. Ivaloo Pryor and Mrs. Mona George. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George at 819 Silver street.

One Course Better Than The Next

If you order one of our complete dinners, you might start off with our wonderful antipasto, then perhaps, a steaming dish of minestrome soup. Next, the entree — let's say our out of this world veal pamageana — and for dessert — demi tasse and bisquit tortoni. A little wine . . . and you've had a meal fit for a king.

Prep Football "Big Ten" Find Rough Going With Underdogs

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9—(AP)—Upsets were a dime a dozen on Ohio's scholastic gridirons last weekend, three of the "top 10" teams in the Associated Press poll being batted down among the also-rans and three new ones moving into contention.

Still riding high were the one-two teams—Massillon and Hamilton—the three-time staff champs from Stark County clinging to the top with a 54-13 conquest of Akron South.

Hamilton's Big Blue clung to the Tigers' heels with a rousing 55-26 victory over Cleveland Benedictine, first loss for the upstaters.

But third-place Springfield fell to 11th after taking a 35-20 loss at the hands of Middletown, the victors jumping from 11th to sixth place. Warren, nosed out 7-6 by Mansfield's resurgent Tygers, skidded from fourth to 13th, while Toledo Waite tok a 25-0 shellacking from Toledo Libbey and dropped from sixth to 12th place.

Tied for 10th

Libbey moved into a 10th place tie with Fremont Ross, while Lima Central, a newcomer to the top 10, grabbed eighth place by taking its fourth impressive win in a row, 33-6 over Toledo Woodward.

Steubenville's Big Red moved up to third after defeating Lima South 33-0, Barberton jumped to fourth with a 12-7 win over Alliance, and Sandusky leaped from a last-place tie to fifth by whipping Port Clinton 61-6. Cleveland Collinwood, a 33-13 victor over East Tech, moved from a last place deadlock to the seventh spot.

Among the teams which have won four in a row, but failed to get into the big ten where three once-defeated clubs hold places, are Dover, London, Westerville, Dublin, Cincinnati Central Vocational, Harrison, Norwood, CARDINGTON, Ashland, Bellevue, Loudonville, New London, Youngstown East, Youngstown Wilson, Hubbard, Bremen, Liberty Union and Warren St. Marys.

Cardington's Bill Henthorne counted on runs of 18, 25, 18 and 58 yards in the team's 13th straight over Richwood 44 to 20, boosting him to an even 100 points for four tilts.

Six TDs

Sophomore John Francisco, whose brother Paul quarterbacks Massillon, started his first game for the Tigers Friday and scored six touchdowns, four on runs over more than 22 yards . . . the win was Massillon's 13th straight, with Alliance coming up Friday.

Sandusky scored everytime it got the ball except when the fourth stringers were held on the five in the last period in the rout of Port Clinton. Seven players scored touchdowns, and Chuck Acierto booted seven straight conversions. . . . One of the week's top games bring unbeaten Sandusky and Fremont Ross together Friday at Fremont. Both are in the top 10:

Teams	Pts.	W.	L.
Massillon (11)	178	4	0
Hamilton (5)	156	4	0
Steubenville (0)	107	3	1

I.B.C. Faces Grand Jury

Boxing Group Called Monopoly in Sport

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 — (AP) — The International Boxing Club, promoter of virtually every championship fight in the country since the demise of the 20th Century Sporting Club, was under the scrutiny of a federal grand jury today.

The nationwide investigation of the game was directed by U. S. Attorney General Howard McGrath. Although it did not mention the I.B.C. by name, obviously it was aimed at the gigantic corporation which reputedly does $14,000,000 yearly business exclusive of radio, television and movies here and in Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis.

There have been rumors—and accusations—that boxers not under contract to the I.B.C. have trouble getting fights. Sen. Herman Welker (R), Idaho, has charged that the I.B.C. operates a monopoly in that it is a closed business which governs and controls professional boxing in almost every major city in the United States.

Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson along with his manager, George Gainford, were called today as witnesses.

Among the first questions they will be asked is whether they have signed an exclusive contract with the I.B.C., which makes it a practice to sign champions exclusively wherever possible. All major boxing outfits through the years have done this.

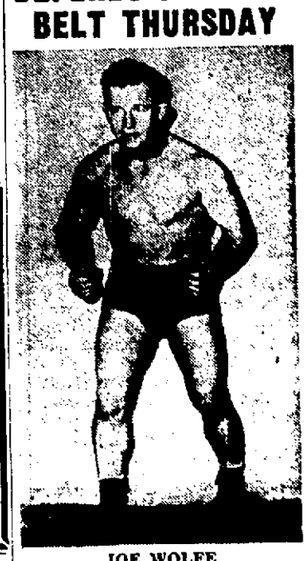
NEW CHAMP DEFENDS HIS GOLD BELT THURSDAY



JOE WOLFE

Last Thursday the American Junior Heavyweight Gold Belt changed hands and it was one of the closest matches ever seen in Marion. Joe Wolfe won and after the match, said that since he won he would be a wrestling champ and defend it against all comers. Well that was a nice statement to make but Thursday night at the Armory Joe is putting up his belt against one of the roughest and toughest men in the game, namely, one Jules LaRance. LaRance is a former champ and the French-Canadian is one wrestler who will go all out to get the belt back. In the semi-final, also 2 out of 3 falls, another former champion, Johnny Demchuk will be going all out to get closer to a championship match when he meets the popular Whitey Walberg. To make this an all star attraction, Les Fishbaugh has signed the tough Irish McGee to wrestle a new boy who won the Chicago Y.M.C.A. title, Bobby Watts. First match starts at 8:30 and prices remain at: General $1.00, Ringside $1.50, Kids 50c. Call Markert & Lewis early for the best ringside seats to this all star show.

Takes a Professor To Figure This One

CHICAGO—(UP)—Know how heavy the Milky Way is?

Well, astronomers figure the mass of the earth is this many tons:

6,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

Thornton Page, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Chicago, says the mass of the sun is 330,000 times that of the earth.

Page says the mass of the Milky Way is about 200,000,000,000 times that of the sun.

So, how heavy is the Milky Way? Figure it out for yourself.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—(UP)—Stocks opened narrowly irregular today on active trading.

Gains dominated and opening blocks ranged to more than 5,000 shares. Interest centered on the more speculative shares while the leaders either held at the previous close or showed small net gains.

Leading automobile issues sagged a trifle. Steels were around the previous close. Rails balanced off small gains and losses. So did the oils. Chemicals held steady to firm.

Interest in gold mining issues continued but price changes in the group held in a narrow area.

Goodrich rose nearly a point to feature the tire section. Small gains were noted in such issues as Texas Company, International Paper, Standard Oil (N. J.), General Electric, Lockheed, Dow Chemical, and Mid-Continent Petroleum.

Consolidated Copper Mines opened 5,000 shares at 13⅞ up ½; Radio Keith Pictures, 5,300 at 4½ off ⅛, and Calumet & Hecla, 4,000 at 11¾ up ¾.

2-Way Radio Speeds Construction Jobs

LASALLE, Ill.—(UP)—An enterprising construction contractor has decided to keep in radio contact with his far-flung crews by two-way radio.

J. P. Hollerich told the city council that he proposed to put a radio transmitter atop a water tower, then equip all of his trucks, automobiles, tractors and earth-moving machines with radios.

Problems arising on the jobs could be settled in minutes, Hollerich said, simply by establishing contact with the home office for a discussion by radio.

Steady-Customer Of Fire Department

CHICAGO—(UP)—Mrs. Dorothy Jezior, 27, has reason to be grateful to the Chicago fire department.

Inhalator squads have saved the life of her seven-year-old daughter, Delores, three times in recent years.

In the latest case, the little girl had convulsions and Inhalator Squad 6 sped to the home. They revived Delores in 20 minutes.

"They're wonderful!" Mrs. Jezior said.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the office of the Mayor until 12 o'clock noon on the 5th day of November, 1951, for the sale of the following:

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Some are almost as much alarmed at the possibility that a southern Democrat might reach the White House as if it was a northern Republican.

• • •

While the governors were in conference, Mr. Truman announced that the Russians had dropped another atom bomb but it might just have been the rumblings from down south that registered on the White House seismograph.

• • •

Jimmie Byrnes lost the Chicago vice presidential free-for-all in Chicago in 1940 and otherwise might be sitting in the White House as president if you-all today.

• • •

Not that James was alone . . . so many candidates were put in nomination they had to march 'em into convention hall in platoons.

• • •

The Democrats picked the only man nobody seemed to have anything on, true or false, for vice president in 1940 and it cannot be said that he hasn't returned the compliment.

• • •

The Washington record shows that he hasn't had anything on a Democrat since.

• • •

But I'm not counting Byrnes, Byrd et cetera.

Alaska Reports Game More Plentiful

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA,—(UP)—A two-week aerial survey by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service shows there is a bountiful supply of caribou, moose and sheep in Alaska's Arctic area this year.

The 9,000-mile survey was made by Clarence Rhode, director of the Alaska district, and members of his staff. The tour covered vast wastelands north and south of the bleak Brooks Mountain from Point Lay East to Demarcation Point.

Because most of the natives are working on military construction jobs on the coast, there probably will be less shooting this year, he said adding, "It will give us a swell chance to build up those herds."

It was estimated in 1950 that there were 771,000,000 head of cattle in the world, compared with the pre-war figure of only 743,000,000.
